Looks Like Coolidge Avoid Short Selling Kenyon—An American Business vs. Confiscation

Current Events

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1924, by Star Company

WHEREVER the people express an opinion at the primaries, it looks very much like Coolidge for Republican Presidential candidate. The people evidently are convinced that Coolidge had nothing whatever to do with Teapot Dome.

Public opinion hits the truth automatically.

YOU HAVE been warned here about selling French francs short. If you took that advice you have saved money. They went up again yesterday violently, rising from 3.87, Tuesday's close, to 4.19, yesterday's close.

Be careful how you sell francs short and be careful how you buy European bonds. Invest your money in United States' optimism, and you will come out right in the end.

EX-SENATOR KENYON, of Iowa, may be Secretary of the Navy. He is strong, a genuine American honest, able, thinks as an American, and would look upon the American navy as a distinctly American institution with no European attachments.

A man of open mind, able to realise the importance of flying machines in modern war, he wouldn't be controlled by officers past fifty that hate to give up the flummery and comfort of the quarterdeck.

A HIGH and learned court says that when the people try to force a gas company to sell gas for $1 a thousand feet, "that is confiscatory." What is it when the gas company makes the people pay $1.50 or $2 for gas?

When the people pay too little, that is "confiscation."

When a corporation grabs too much that's just "legitimate business."

YOU HAVE heard from the man that doesn't want to pay income tax; the other man hates the inheritance tax; all the complainers. What do you think of Wesley Jordan, seventy-five years old, farmer, just dead at Lancaster, Ohio. His will, expressing gratitude for happiness and liberty enjoyed under the Stars and Stripes, orders his executors to sell his property for cash. After paying his funeral expenses, all the rest—about $16,000—goes to the treasury of the United States.

THE House of Representatives has approved the plan to let Henry Ford develop Muscle Shoals. People in the South are celebrating with bonfires.

Next will come action by the Senate. Every farmer in the United States is interested in the proposition. Senators, thinking they can afford to vote against it because "it is a long time before election," will find that this particular thing will not be forgotten.

IF YOU are an "understanding, red blooded 100 per cent. American" you have something to live for.

Dempsey will fight Firpo again in New York on next Labor Day. Of course if Firpo is beaten by anybody else in the meanwhile, such as Mr. Gibbons, white man from the Northwest, or Mr. Wills, black man from the South, Mr. Dempsey would feel in honor bound to fight the winner.

Nobody, it seems, feels particularly anxious to fight Mr. Wills. The objection is not so much to the objectionable color of the skin, as to the vicious character of his right and left fists—so the experts say.

MONEY circulates. The dollar you pay to an undertaker today may be buying a

2 DEAD IN MALDEN BLAZE

Mother and Son, Trapped in Home, Perish, but Second Son Leaps to Safety

Mrs. Nellie M. Keefe of No. 187 West street, Malden, is dead—burned to death a martyr to mother love.

Her eldest son, Andrew L. Keefe, prominent in the athletic world as a baseball player and known to thousands of baseball fans as "Hiker," is also dead.

Mother and son perished in a ... which destroyed their two-story cottage home early today.

The only member of the family to escape was the younger son, William, who, when cut off from escape by the stairway, ran to a porch-roof and leaped into a snowbank, clad only in his night garments.

When the flames, which for a time turned the frame structure into a roaring furnace, had been subdued, the charred remains of the mother were found huddled near the foot of the stairway, within five feet of the front door and safety.

GAVE LIFE FOR SONS

The body of the son was found hanging over the foot of a bed in his brother's room. He apparently had died of suffocation before the flames reached him.

The husband and father, Lawrence Keefe, is night engineer at the Malden & Melrose Gas Light Company. When the fire alarm was sounded, he hastened home. A tragic feature was the fact that the crazed father himself discovered the bodies of his wife and son.

Mrs. Keefe died because she remained in the burning building long enough to make sure that both of her boys were fully awake and realized the danger.

She was first awakened by the smoke which filled her bedroom.

Mrs. Keefe slept in a front room. The son, Andrew, who was twenty-two years of age, occupied another front room, while William, the younger son, slept in the rear.

The mother, awakened by the fire, ran to Andrew's room.

"Get up and get dressed, Andy, the house is on fire," she shouted. She then ran to awaken William, the younger boy.

WHERE TWO PERISHED IN BLAZING MALDEN HOME

DEMANDS REMOVAL OF COOK

Rep. Sawyer Calls State Auditor "Bigot" and Moves for His Impeachment

State Representative Roland D. Sawyer of Ware today demanded the impeachment of State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook.

General Clarence R. Edwards backed Representative Sawyer in his demand for Cook's impeachment. The general said the auditor's case was one of "plain and simple bigotry known by everyone in the State House from the Governor down."

James T. Williams, Boston newspaperman, and John Walsh, employment officer of the United States Veterans' Bureau, also declared that conditions brought about by Auditor Cook should be changed.

Sawyer, a Congregational minister, known to his constituents as "Square Deal Sawyer," charges the auditor with being a religious bigot.

He also charges that Cook "has entirely neglected his office.

"Two-Hour Cook" is the designation the minister gave the auditor today before the joint legislative committee on rules, claiming Cook spends only two hours a week at the State House.

Five World War veterans, four Catholic and a Jew, who headed the civil service list were refused appointment by the auditor on account

ROOSEVELT ACTED ON FALL BID

Sent Marines to "Dorne" on Ex-Secretary's Request; Got Archie a Job

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 13 (A.P.)—Two receivers will be named to take over control of the Teapot Dome oil reserve, Judge T. Blake Kennedy ruled after hearing argument of opposing counsel.

Washington, March 13.—Turning its attention to the use of marines to clear Teapot Dome of trespassers after it had been leased to Harry F. Sinclair, the oil committee was told today that the order for the marine expedition had been issued at the request of Albert B. Fall.

Theodore Roosevelt, who, as Acting Secretary of the Navy, signed the order, said Fall had told him President Harding desired that course be pursued.

Roosevelt also said Fall told him that Secretary Daniels had taken similar action.

Later a letter on the subject from Mr. Harding to Fall, dated June 24, 1922, was put into the record. In it the President said that unless James G. Darden of the Mutual Oil Company withdrew from Teapot, he should be ejected.

Roosevelt testified that he asked Sinclair to give his brother, Archie Roosevelt, a job, and Archie got it, at $10,000 for the first year.

Major General LeJeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, was the first witness on the Marine line of inquiry.

He said George K. Shuler, then a captain of marines, was selected, after a conference with Secretary Fall, to command the detail sent to Teapot.

Four enlisted men were selected to accompany Shuler, who now is treasurer of New York State.

FALL SENDS PRAISE.

Shuler telegraphed on August 6 that his mission had been accomplished. Later, Fall wrote the navy commending Shuler for his work.

Asked whether he did not regard this as an extraordinary use of the marine corps, the general said he did not consider that point at all. He simply obeyed orders.

Secretary Roosevelt did not recall anything "very clearly" about a protest from the governor of Wyoming against employing force to remove trespassers.

On July 29, 1922, Colonel Roosevelt said, he found a note from Fall to the effect that "there were

'Scofflaw Town' Can't Touch a Penny of Growing Fund

Atkinson, N. H., March 13.—Somewhere there is an anti-scofflaw in need of financial aid, but he isn't in Atkinson—not by $1,381.16 worth.

That sum is one deposit in the Haverhill Savings Bank, having grown from an original deposit of $500 made in 1899 by the late William C. Todd.

Todd stipulated that the money deposited, when it reached $1,000, was to be used only for needy poor, but these needy poor must be total abstainers from liquor and tobacco.

There are needy poor in Atkinson, but none will lay claim to being anti-scofflaw. So the money is still in the bank, growing faster and faster, year by year, on a compound interest diet.

SINCLAIR MEN ARE BARRED BY JAPANESE

Tokio, March 13 (A.P.)—Japanese military authorities have frustrated an attempt by J. F. McCulloch and D. F. MacLaughlin, American surveyors representing Sinclair Oil Interests, to enter the northern section of the Island of Saghalien.

They have taken them on a gunboat from Saghalien to Otaru in Hokkaido, it was learned today.

The Americans, accompanied by a Russian guide, entered Saghalien from the Siberian mainland. They were stopped at Alexandrovsk by military officials, who declared a determination not to permit representatives of an American company to conduct surveys under concessions from the Soviet government, which Japan does not recognize.

McCulloch and MacLaughlin are believed to have gone to Peking.

INVESTORS FLEECED OF MILLIONS

Evidence Against Hub Brokerage Houses to Be Presented on Monday

Assistant District Attorney Maurice Caro has called a special session of the Suffolk County Grand Jury for next Monday to hear evidence against numerous Boston brokerage houses.

Coincident with this announcement comes word that Warren N. Withington, dummy president of Withington & Company, has departed for parts unknown.

100,000 VICTIMS

The Boston American has evidence to show that not only was Withington & Company a part of G. F. Redmond & Company, but that numerous other Boston brokerage houses, some of them still doing business, were engaged in a gigantic scheme, as a result of which Massachusetts investors have lost millions of dollars.

More than one hundred thousand persons in New England have been active contributors to this group of houses during the past year. The system used by the so-called partial payment houses, which grew from the remains of the old time bucket shop, is not generally known.

How letters of customers are obtained; how money is mulcted from these customers; how the gigantic over-head of the partial payment house is maintained has been ascertained by investigators.

ROOSEVELT SENT MARINES TO 'DOME' ON FALL'S REQUEST

DECLARES HIS ACTION WAS APPROVED BY HARDING

trespassers or squatters on the Dome, about to take oil," from which the government would get no share.

In conversation with him later, the witness continued, Secretary Fall said he and the President wanted some marines sent to put these people off the oil reservation.

The Secretary added, he said, that he had not expected President Harding to favor the action because one of the men engaged in trespassing was a friend of his. This, however, he declared, made no difference to the President.

Senator Walsh read into the record a letter sent to George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the President, by H. H. Tammen of the Denver Post, under date of August 1, 1922, characterizing the situation in Teapot Dome as "an awful mess."

Tammen called Christian's attention to an article in the Post on the ejection of the Mutual Oil Company from Teapot.

Christian transmitted the letter to Fall with a request for material on which to base an answer.

Fall responded with a history of the naval reserve, and a discussion of a legal controversy raised as to titles upon it.

It was the duty of the Navy, the Interior Secretary's reply insisted, to protect the reserves, and, he added, that the marines were the Navy's police force for that purpose.

Roosevelt said he had casually mentioned the sending of marines to Teapot to President Harding, who had approved.

CALLS IT OUTRAGE.

Characterizing sending of the marines as an "outrageous use of the military forces," Senator Walsh charged that armed forces were used because Fall and Sinclair did not want to precipitate a court test which would be raised the question of the validity of the lease made by Fall.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, asked Roosevelt to tell what part he took in getting Archie Roosevelt, his brother, a job with the Sinclair Company.

GOT JOB FOR ARCHIE.

"After the war I went and spoke with Mr. Sinclair about getting him a job," Colonel Roosevelt said, "and he gave him the place.

Archie's salary at first was $10,000 per year, and later, the witness thought, $15,000.

In the letter of June 24, 1922, President Harding wrote Fall that unless James O. Darden of the Mutual Oil Company got off the Teapot he should be ejected.

"I have a call out for an interview with Mr. Darden," the President's letter said.

Fall replied that Darden's purpose was to "tie up" the reserve, and that he should be ejected without court action.

Upon the conclusion of Secretary Roosevelt's testimony the committee closed its doors to go through another batch of telegrams.

Driven to Suicide
Daugherty's Chum

Washington, March 13 (Universal).—The divorced wife of the late Jesse W. Smith, chum of Attorney-General Daugherty, told the Senate investigating committee that huge stock gambling transactions in which Smith was a partner with Daugherty had driven Smith to suicide.

The witness described herself as Miss Roxie Stinson of Columbus and Washington Courthouse, Ohio. She said she had married Smith in November, 1908, and was divorced from him a year and a half later.

One of the features of the divorce's testimony was naming Daugherty as participant with Smith in promotion of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight moving pictures, and stock deals in which hundreds of thousands of dollars were involved.

Jesse Smith, well known in Washington and the East, was a friend and confident of Attorney-General Daugherty. He also enjoyed the confidence of many other men high in the councils of the Republican party, including the late President Harding.

He killed himself, under circumstances never fully explained, in the apartment of the Attorney-General at the Wardman Park Hotel here last May.

Miss Stinson, as the witness described herself, testified that although divorced from Smith approximately ten years ago, her business relations with him which involved dealing in stocks about which there was much mystery did not cease until the time of his death.

On the strength of this statement subpoenas were issued to the managers of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies in Washington and Washington Courthouse to bring before the committee all telegrams sent or received by Jesse Smith between November, 1920, and the date of his death.

At the very outset of the hearing there was a clash between Senator Wheeler of the investigating committee and Attorney Paul Howland, counsel for Mr. Daugherty.

Wheeler flatly charged that Howland "bulldozed" the House committee, which investigated Daugherty a year ago, but declared with vehemence that he would not "bulldoze" this committee.

The witness said that for four years after her divorce from Smith he provided for her with a series of $500 notes, payable at intervals of approximately every six months.

After Smith moved to Washington, she said, he was more generous, as he made considerable sums of money "in deals."

Important sections of the direct testimony follow:

Senator Wheeler—"Are you acquainted with Harry M. Daugherty?"

Miss Stinson—"Yes, sir."

"How long have you known him?"

"I do not know when I was formally introduced to him, if ever, or to his brother, but I have known him for a long time."

"What had been the relationship between Jesse Smith and the Attorney-General before Mr. Daugherty entered the cabinet?"

DAUGHERTY 'IDEAL'

"Oh, they had always been friends."

"Will you say they were intimate friends?"

"Why, Jesse Smith was a great admirer of Harry Daugherty all his life long. I think he was his ideal."

"What was Jessie Smith's business prior to the time he came to Washington?"

"He was in business in Washington courthouse operating a department store. He came to Washington the year of President Harding's election, before the inauguration."

"Where did he live?"

"He lived with the Attorney-General, first at the house of Edward B. McLean on H street."

"Did they pay any rent?"

"I think not. I was informed not by Jesse."

"Miss Stinson, when did you first become acquainted with President Harding?"

"How frequently did Jesse Smith visit at your home at Washington Courthouse?"

"His visits were two to three weeks apart."

"Did he communicate with you at other times?"

"He rarely missed a day, by wire, letter or telephone."

"Approximately what was Jesse Smith worth prior to coming to Washington in 1920?"

"One hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars."

"Who were the main bequests to?"

"Harry Daugherty, Mel Daugherty, myself, Edward St. Johnson, and Less St. Johnson $20,000 each." (The St. Johnsons were nephews of Smith's.)

In tears Miss Stinson told of Smith's suicide in Wardman Park Hotel, Washington, on May 30, 1922. Wheeler asked:

"Had he talked about his financial affairs before his suicide?"

"I had heard nothing else for six months. He was in constant fear."

"Fear of what?"

"Of being closed down upon."

"By whom?"

"I don't know. He had asked me to bolster him up, to cheer him up."

CALLS JURY IN PROBE OF HUB BROKERS

lic who have pushed their hard-earned dollars into the cashiers' cages of the so-called "brokerage houses," the Boston American today presents the first of a series of articles dealing with the methods used by these firms and, later, with the names of the firms.

It might be well to start by giving an explanation of the term "bucket shop." The term came into existence from the fact that "brokerage houses" which did not actually execute trades formed a habit some twenty-five years ago of tossing customers' orders into a bucket under the desk of the cashier.

MERELY GAMBLING

This, of course, was a simple gambling proposition. The "broker" bet the customer he was wrong on his market. The only hitch in this was that if the broker was right the customer lost his money and if the customer was right the broker could not pay—so the customer also lost his money.

Some fifteen years ago there was a nation-wide movement against bucket shops. One of the leading lights in this business was a man then doing business in Chicago. This man was tried and convicted of "bucketing" and was given a suspended sentence on the condition that he depart from the State of Illinois and never again engage in business in that State.

START NEW SCHEME

The man from Illinois came to Boston. He went into business with a Boston man. He brought with him the partial payment scheme, a gambling which arose from the decaying bones of the bucket shop.

The plan evolved by Mr. "S" from Chicago was:

First, to prepare a list, purchased or acquired from the defunct bucket shops, of those who had bought from the United States who were gullible enough to believe the "get rich quick scheme" of smooth customers' men.

Second, to bucket trades in such a way that there would be no outward appearance of "bucketing" and thereby revive a most profitable business which, under its old guise, had been forced out by authorities. This new system of running a bucket shop comprises the following procedure:

CUSTOMER BUYS

John Brown, either as a result of a telephone call or letter followed by conversation with one of "X" & Company's customers' men, gives "X" & Company a buying order for ten shares of Sleepy Hollow Mining Stock. The market price on Sleepy Hollow, according to the Boston Curb Exchange is $10 a share.

Under the partial payment plan, John Brown makes an initial payment of 20 per cent. of the purchase value of his stock.

Therefore, John Brown gives "X" & Company $20 and agrees, under the partial payment plan, to make monthly payments for the balance.

"X" & Company wires an order to "Z" & Company, a party to the scheme, for the ten shares of the Sleepy Hollow and, as per arrangement with "Z" & Company, receives by private wire, a confirmation of the trade.

TRICK IN CARBON COPY

Here is the catch. At the same time the confirmation is written down by the man who receives it there is a carbon copy of the purchase confirmation, but at the top of the carbon copy it says "Sold" instead of "Bought," and the printed form of the carbon copy is red instead of blue.

So John Brown is charged a commission by the partial payment house for having purchased ten shares of Sleepy Hollow; and John Brown is charged interest on the balance of the money he owes for the purchase of this Sleepy Hollow stock.

ORDERS ARE BUCKETED

As a matter of fact, the partial payment house with which John Brown did business never purchased a share of Sleepy Hollow stock; the customer is being charged interest on a loan that was never made; he is making payments on stock that was never purchased.

During the past six years the partial payment plan business in New England has grown to such a point that New England workingmen and women have been paying interest annually to partial payment houses on an aggregate of more than five millions of dollars that was never loaned to them.

Tomorrow the American will show how customers of partial payment houses are induced by glib-tongued customers' men to part with their last dollar in case the market goes against them or to reinvest their profits and additional capital in case the market goes in their favor.

It will also be shown in subsequent articles how the majority of customers are induced to invest in stocks, the market price of which is controlled by the dastardly octopus bulled by Mr. "S," late of Chicago.

SAVED BY PLUCK AND LUCK IN RAGING SEA

TINY ROPE HIS LIFE BRIDGE

Mate Michael Foley of the steam trawler Saturn, who worked his way back to ship by a thin log rope which he blindly grasped. He had been swept overboard off Georges Bank.

MATE BATTLES WAY OUT OF WILD SEA

Swept Off Trawler Into the Gale-Tossed Waves Off Georges Bank

The steam trawler Saturn, battered and sea washed, steamed up to the Fish Pier today.

On the trawler was one man with several ribs fractured, and the mate, Michael Foley saved from death in the mountainous waves only by his courage and resourcefulness.

Bound home from Georges Banks, the tiny trawler hit into the howling ninety-mile gale that accompanied the recent two-day storm.

The small craft was hurled high on the huge crests. Seas broke completely over her, almost douding the smokestack top and wetting out the fires.

But she ploughed on through the rolling seas with part of the pilot house stove in and every loose object on deck swept overboard.

Mate Foley and James Ryan were sent on deck to secure some gear that was in danger of being torn loose in the bowling gale.

A tremendous wave roared over the craft, sweeping Foley into the wash and crashing Ryan into the scuppers, with several fractured ribs.

He shouted for help, but only Ryan heard him.

Battling with the seas, Mate Foley's hands touched something. He grasped it. It was the thin log line—hardly a straw on which to hang a man's life. But he held on.

Inch by inch the mate fought back toward the ship, dipping far under the waves one second—his lungs almost bursting—and flung high out of the water in the next, with only the thin line between him and death.

He gained the inches, wrapped the thin cord around his wrist, was washed under, and then coming out of the waves again, wriggled along another inch.

Finally he gained the shelter of the stern, just as Captain Hayes hove to in order to see what had happened to the two men on deck.

SCORES COOK

of their religion, Representative Sawyer charged, and he demanded that in addition to the impeachment a complete investigation of the auditor's department be made.

ACCUSED OF NEGLECT.

The opposition which Representative Sawyer voices against the State auditor hinges upon two things—the auditor's failure to appoint Catholics or Jews to offices under his control, and the alleged neglect of his public duties, the representative charging that, among other things, Cook attended only three out of thirty-three meetings of the State board of appeals in a year's time.

Representative Sawyer told the committee on rules that his attention was first called to Cook when the five war veterans who had qualified for positions in the auditor's department, were forced to seek employment elsewhere and that all five have secured responsible positions in which they have made good. These positions, Representative Sawyer said, were entirely similar to those which Cook had open in his department.

When Auditor Cook asked for employees from the Civil Service Commission, Representative Sawyer said that names were certified to the auditor.

The five men at the head of the list were Joseph A. Feeney, Fernand Mathieu, William M. Morgan, Russell A. Crozier and William Whitaman.

WOULDN'T APPOINT VETS

In his petition, the representative claims that not a single one of these men was appointed and quotes one Jimmy Bean "a lame-duck taken care of by Cook at a salary of $4,500" as saying to Crozier that "Jimmy Bean told me that no matter what happens, Cook would not appoint a veteran."

In his address to the committee, Representative Sawyer discussed Cook's alleged bigotry at considerable length.

"His attitude toward a Catholic or Jew is common gossip about the State House," he said. "The first five names on the list from which he should have made appointments was made up of four Catholics and one Jew and it is my firm opinion that is why Cook refused to appoint."

The legislator cited the subsequent records of the five men Cook refused to appoint to office.

GET JOBS ELSEWHERE.

Crozier is now a qualified senior accountant in Chittenden, Freeney is employed in Portland, Me., in a position similar to that for which the auditor needed a man. Mathieu is working for the Federal Government in Pennsylvania on similar work. Morgan is now an accountant for a large commercial house while Whitaman is employed outside the State.

"The Federal and State Constitution," said Representative Sawyer, "provide for complete religious freedom. The State Constitution says 'No person shall be hurt, restrained, molested for worshipping God according to the manner most agreeable to his own conscience.' Alonzo B. Cook swore to uphold the constitution. He has violated his oath.

"We must call Alonzo B. Cook to account."

General Edwards, in his appeal to the committee, declared the case of Cook was a vital one.

"His whole attitude demands impeachment, if an investigation supports my investigation, and I think I got the truth," said the General.

"It is a very vital problem—a case of prejudice," he continued. "I appear in behalf of the men who stood the test of centuries, to protest against discrimination, and evasion of the statutes."

Mr. Walsh, the Veterans' Bureau employment officer, declared the United States expected Massachusetts to do her duty by the ex-service men.

"The question of religion," he said, "is not considered by the government, but the government does expect the State of Massachusetts to give first choice to the men whom the law say shall have first choice."

CUTTER RESCUES 20 AS DISABLED CITY BOAT DRIFTS IN GALE

CRAFT IS SWEPT BY BIG SEAS

Navy Men Save Imperilled Folk on Storm-Battered Boat From Certain Death

Twenty persons are alive today because of a daring rescue in Boston Harbor that has just echoed back from out the howling gale.

The men of the United States revenue cutter Ossipee didn't tell it. It was all in their day's work.

But the men of the city of Boston boat Michael J. Perkins, plying between the South Ferry slip and Long Island, did tell. To them the thrilling rescue in a roaring sea, with the wind shrieking across the bay at a seventy-five-mile clip, spelled the difference between life and death.

Ten sick patients, two nurses, six members of the crew and the captain and mate were aboard the Michael J. Perkins, a tiny, snub-nosed craft, when she braved the mountainous seas and the wild gale on the worst day of the storm.

Great sheets of spray swirled up over the deck as the city craft dipped into the boiling seas and the driving snow spatted against the pilot house glass, and stuck there.

Deeper and deeper grew the troughs and higher and higher rolled the huge waves as the little Perkins battled her way slowly toward the hospital on Long Island.

High on the crest she appeared one moment; deep and hidden in the valley of seething green water she disappeared the next, bobbing like a tiny chip, while the wind whistled across her decks.

"Then," said Captain Kelley of the Perkins, "a hawser was swept overboard and fouled the propeller shaft."

HELPLESS IN STORM.

It was impossible to shake it loose. No man, be he the bravest man traversing the seven seas, could hope to go down and free it. He would have drowned in a single dip of the craft.

The howling wind picked up the tiny vessel gleefully and whirled it helplessly. The great seas pounded up and over her, flooding the cabin. Life preservers were broken out and the score of helpless persons on board looked into the face of death.

"Nobody knew about us," said Captain Kelley. "There wasn't a ship near us to lend a hand and the minutes were those long ones that seem like years.

TOWED SAFELY TO PORT.

"And then the brave old Ossipee, the coast guard cutter, swung into view off our port side and those on board saw our plight at a glance.

"She swung around us in the nicest piece of seamanship you ever saw, and came close enough to throw us a line. A few feet one way or the other in that sea—and we would have crashed. But the Ossipee held her position to the inch.

"The line was made fast and she towed us into port. It was a game stunt but it's an everyday occurrence with the coast guard service that no one knows about."

But now it is known, despite the modest reticence of the coast guard heroes.

ACCUSED BY 'PATIENTS' IN QUINCY COURT

CONTINUE "DOCTORS" CASE

Mrs. Ella C. Phillips of Quincy (at top) and Mrs. J. J. Black of Norfolk Downs.

"Patients" Say That, Though Healthy, They Were Given Herbs

Quincy, March 13.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Black of Norfolk Downs and Mrs. Ella C. Phillips of Quincy were in District Court today, answering the charge of practicing medicine without a license.

The arrest of the trio was the direct result of the recent investigations into activities of unscrupulous persons plying on the gullible in the guise of healers and physicians, conducted by the American.

The evidence offered at the preliminary hearing indicated that both the Blacks and the Phillips woman prescribed medicine and took money from persons who were enjoying good health. The "patients," however, were told they were disease victims.

Miss Ethel Reed, a witness against both women, testified that while enjoying health, she went to Mrs. Phillips for treatment and was told she was suffering from a general run-down condition and anaemia. After gazing into a crystal ball, Mrs. Phillips gave the young lady a great bottle of herb "medicine" which she said would cure her.

Miss Reed was also given medicine by Mrs. Black after the latter had diagnosed her ailment as a "generally rundown condition."

Charles Moshinsky was one of the principal witnesses against Black. He testified that Black, who in addition to being a "doctor" is also a real estate dealer, examined him and found him suffering from disease. Black, he said, gave him a bottle containing a liquid and a box of salve, wrapping the whole in an old newspaper.

After hearing the evidence of Miss Reed, Moshinsky and Miss Rae Clark, the latter a special investigator for State Officer Keating, the court directed that the case be continued until March 28 and in the interim additional facts will be sought.

FALL ACCUSED OF FRAUD IN OIL SUITS

Government, Seeking to Annul Leases, Says He Conspired With Sinclair

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 13.—Charging fraud, conspiracy and illegality, the government filed its suit here today to cancel the Teapot Dome lease and contracts.

The government's special counsel petitioned the United States District Court to do three specific things:

Appoint a receiver to take charge of the properties.

Enter a final decree cancelling the leases and contracts, returning the properties to the government and enforcing an accounting.

CHARGES FALL PLOT.

Former Secretary Fall was charged with making "false representations" to the late President Harding, which resulted in the transfer of the lands from the Navy to the Interior Department. The government denies that there was any warrant of law for leasing the lands at all.

The bill alleges that Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, the latter acting for the Mammoth Oil Company, "did combine, conspire and confederate to defraud the United States."

The result of these alleged acts, the government's bill recites, was to lease the Teapot lands to the Mammoth Oil Company "at an inadequate, improper and fraudulent consideration."

Former Secretary Denby, in connection with the transaction, is described in the government's bill as "having exercised no discretion" and his signature is characterized "as merely a colorable attempt to evidence the compliance by him in its terms."

The Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company and the Sinclair Pipe Line Company, operating storage facilities on Teapot Dome, were made parties to the suits as "trespassers" to be ejected, their properties to be taken over by the receiver.

HITS HARDING'S RIGHT.

The bill asserts that former President Harding was without authority to transfer the lands, but did so on "false representations from Fall," who desired to deal with the lands, "not in the interest of the United States, but to the advantage, profit and benefit of the Mammoth Oil Company, and in particular Harry F. Sinclair."

Fall, the bill charges, knew at the time that the whole transaction was illegal.

Fall, furthermore, the government charges, "secretly communicated" to Sinclair that he would not make any leases until Sinclair produced quitclaim deeds to any claims within the lands, "knowing well that said claims were worthless."

"CONNIVANCE" BY FALL.

Then, the bill charges, Fall, by "connivance," arranged for Sinclair to acquire such quit claims from the Pioneer Oil Company "with intent to stifle competition."

At the same time, it is recited, Fall agreed with John C. Shaffer, the newspaper publisher, to see that Sinclair set apart certain of the leased lands for "the benefit of the said Shaffer."

Race Results by Radio

2 DIE IN FIRE

door of his bedroom he was greeted with a solid wall of flame. Thinking his mother and brother were safe, he leaped from the window and landed into a snowbank. His jump was broken by John Fahey, an elevated motorman, who was attracted by the fire.

It was not until firemen arrived that the fate of the mother and othr son was learned.

In the meantime William ran into the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burton and telephoned for his father.

"My first thought was that our dog had started the fire playing with matches in the cellar," said the father. "When I got to the house William told me his mother and Andrew were missing.

"When they couldn't be found I went in with Policeman Horgan and Shaughnessy and on the stairs a fireman pointed out a body. It was my wife.

I found Andy across the foot of William's bed, his head dangling to the floor. The dog was in the cellar, suffocated. The cellar was the only unhurt part of the house, so I guess the poor dog is not to blame."

The fire is believed to have started from wood igniting from a very hot kitchen range.

The mother was forty-eight years of age.

The eldest son, while never playing professional baseball, had played on a number of the leading semi-professional teams in and about Boston and was regarded as a star athlete.

TODAY

teething ring for a new baby tomorrow.

The Prince of Monaco, who died the other day, got his money from the gambling rooms of Monte Carlo where many an American has left hard cash.

That money he put into American railroad and other securities, so that the money that Americans left in Monte Carlo came back to buy stocks in America.

HAVE you friends that gambled in Sinclair Oil, on "sure tips"? Tell them this:

It wasn't Sinclair Oil Company that got the navy oil lands. Mr. Sinclair got those leases, and formed a special company to hold them. The Sinclair Oil Company didn't have any interest in the naval reserves at all. Later on a one-quarter interest in the naval reserves was sold to the Sinclair Company, and that's all that company has got now.

Gentlemen that bought in haste to repent at leisure will please notice that a stock market gambling tip is usually dangerous and often ridiculous.

RUM SHIP FORFEIT IS DEMANDED

U. S. Suit Charges British Orduna Smuggled in $100,000 Drugs and Liquors

New York, March 13.—Government confiscation of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's passenger ship Orduna was demanded today in a suit filed in Federal Court by the United States district attorney as a result of a narcotics and liquor raid on the vessel.

The action includes charges that the Orduna had, since January 16, 1920, the date of national prohibition enforcement, smuggled into this country intoxicating liquors and narcotics exceeding $100,000 in value.

Because of these violations, the complaint contends, the Orduna automatically is forfeited to the United States.

Seven of the crew were arrested and contraband valued at $16,000 was seized in the raid.

Britain Asks Report on Orduna Seizure

London, March 13.—The British government has asked its embassy at Washington for a report of the facts concerning the seizure at New York of the Royal Mail line steamship Orduna.

It is understood a report is sought for the information of the Foreign Office rather than as a basis for protest.

There is no disposition on the part of the British government to condone violation of customs and narcotic laws of the United States, and offending steamship companies, it is explained, can expect no support from the British government in such practices.

PRINCESS MARY NOW AWAITS STORK'S VISIT

London, March 13.—Royal circles are interested in the announcement that Princess Mary, wife of Viscount Lascelles, one of the richest men in the British Empire, expects next August to become a mother for the second time.

Princess Mary

It is believed the second child will be born in Goldsborough Hall, the Lascelles' Yorkshire residence. The first baby was born at Harewood House, their London home.

MELLON OPPOSES USE OF DEBT FUND

Washington, March 13.—Secretary Mellon opposed, today, before the Senate Finance Committee, a proposal to decrease the fund supplied for the reduction of the public debt as a means of making greater surplus available for tax reduction. He pointed out that the money paid by England and other nations on their loans to this country must be applied, under the law, to the retirement of the bonds which made possible the loan. The present law would make it possible, he said, to retire the public debt of $20,000,000,000 in about thirty-five years. Chairman Smoot supported Mr. Mellon's view.

ITALY TO FINE FAKERS WHO CLAIM TITLES

Rome, March 13.—The abuse of titles of nobility in Italy has caused the issuance of a royal decree under which the Herald's office may impose fines of 5,000 lire or more upon offenders. Heretofore the law has permitted only prison sentences for the offence, and the statute, by general consent was not enforced, but it is expected that a campaign now will be inaugurated against users of imaginary titles, the idea being to curb the practice and assist the national finances.

BANNER YEAR FOR AUTOS IN PROSPECT

Washington, March 13.—A banner year in motor vehicle use is in prospect in the opinion of officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, who announced today that the year opened with 15,092,177 machines registered, an increase of 2,253,502 over the number at the beginning of 1923. California, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania each had more than 1,000,000 machines.

Motor truck registrations totalled more than 1,500,000 with New York, Ohio and Illinois each having more than 100,000.

34 Years in Postoffice, Dad of 8 Gets $1,800

Here is one convincing reason why employes of the Post Office believe they are entitled to an increase in pay. The government is now paying these men $1800 a year, or about $4.92 a day, far below a living wage.

F. R. Pride

Frederick R. Pride, a carrier attached to the Central Post Office, has eight children, the youngest of whom is eight years old. His salary is $1800 a year. His wife and children live in a flat, for which he pays $30 a month. It has taken him 34 years as a carrier to reach his present salary.

WOMAN HURT IN LEAP FROM CHELSEA FIRE

Jumps From Pembroke Street Window, Though Firemen Urge Her to Wait

An unidentified woman leaped from the third floor of a brick dwelling at Williams and Pembroke streets, Chelsea, when the structure took fire.

She is unconscious and in a serious condition at the Chelsea Hospital.

The fire, which broke out in the basement of the four-story building, trapped a score of women and children in the upper floors. They were carried down ladders by the firemen.

The entire structure was filled with smoke when the firemen arrived, while in the windows in the upper floors were crouched the terror stricken women and children.

The injured woman, crouched at a window, thought the danger from the fire was not immediate. Firemen called to her to stay where she was, till a ladder was raised. Their cries only increased her fear and she jumped.

Two Congressmen Being Probed by Grand Jurors

Washington, March 13.—Grand Jury proceedings were begun here today in the case of the two members of Congress referred to in a recent Chicago Grand Jury report as having improperly accepted money.

Assistant Attorneys General Davis, Willebrandt and Seymour appeared, aided by J. W. H. Crim, special assistant in charge of the case, in presentation of the evidence.

TEN MORE OF CREW SAVED

New Hope That All Were Rescued in Disaster of the Ship Santiago

Norfolk, Va., March 13:—That the loss of life in the sinking of the Ward Line Steamship Santiago off Hatteras Tuesday night may be less than indicated in first reports was thought probable by Coast Guard headquarters here today on receipt of a wireless message from the Cutter Manning.

The cutter reported this:

"The Manning received the following message from the steamship Pilodon:

"'Intercepted message from steamship Colinas, day before yesterday, saying they picked up boat containing ten men from steamship Santiago and expected to pick up the rest.'"

Maritime authorities today awaited word from the Norwegian steamer Cissy with ten survivors aboard from the Santiago with the probable loss of 25 men, 60 miles south of Cape Hatteras.

The Santiago, with a cargo of sugar, was en route from Matanzas, Cuba, to New York. She carried a crew of 35 men. The ten survivors were picked up in a lifeboat by the Cissy.

AGED WOMAN IS BADLY BURNED FIGHTING FIRE

Charlestown Resident Victim of Accident That May Result in Her Death

Mrs. Jessie Figmerodo, aged 80, of No. 19 Sprague street, Charlestown, wanted the house warm for the other members of the family when they arose.

She slipped out of bed and, without stopping to change from her nightgown, went to the kitchen and kindled the fire in the range, while the others were still abed.

In some manner the aged woman set fire to her nightgown. Her screams aroused other members of the family but not until Mrs. Figmerodo had been badly burned about the face and body.

Seabury-Johnson Wedding to Take Place In May Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

BACK from their trip to Bermuda are Miss Penelope Curtis and Rosamond Johnson. And they must be rather regretful that their tropical stay wasn't a longer one, since Boston is to have a new touch of Winter.

Miss Johnson—she is the daughter of Mrs. Wolcott Howe Johnson of Commonwealth avenue and Hamilton — is, of course, busily completing plans for her wedding to Howland Seabury, the interesting event to take place probably in May.

MRS. ROBERT H. STEVENSON, on the contrary, will shortly be beyond the reach of any blizzard.

She left a few days ago for California, planning to be gone for about five weeks. She will not, I believe, spend that time in any one place, but will travel about.

Mrs. Stevenson, who was formerly Miss Alice Lee Thomas, has four orphan nieces, the Misses Katherine, Alice, Rosamond and Elizabeth Thomas, who are making their home this Winter on Beacon street. Miss Rosamond Thomas is one of the past season's debutantes and Mrs. Stevenson has given a number of delightful affairs for her, as she did when the two older sisters made their debut.

Katherine, Alice and Rosamond Thomas are all excellent and entertaining musicians and their intimates consider it quite a treat when the trio performs. Miss Katherine on the saxophone; sister Alice on the "ivories," and Rosamond at the drums.

ON Wednesday afternoon, April 9, the Cercle Francais of Harvard will present at the Copley Theatre "Jalouse," a three-act comedy by Alexandre Bisson.

A most enthusiastic audience attended yesterday's performance of Moliere's "Tartuffe," given by the Cercle.

Miss Ethel ("Polly") Thayer as the very decided "Dorine," called for considerable applause, while Miss Helen Grew made a most demure and appealing "Mariane."

Ellen Lovering

Miss Mary V. Murray, who sails for Paris this week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Morris T. Murray, was "Elmire;" Miss Rebecca Williams was "Madame Pernelle," and Miss Mary Otis "Flipote."

The clever thespians were presented with a perfect avalanche of bouquets, and among the ushers bringing the flowers to the footlights was Miss Ellen Lovering, the first debutante of the season to become engaged. It was only a few weeks ago that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Lovering, announced her betrothal to Josiah H. Child, Harvard, '25.

Society Notes

MRS. HAMILTON McK TWOMBLEY has returned to New York following a visit earlier in the week at the Copley-Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Saltonstall sailed yesterday for France on board the French liner Paris.

Mrs. Henry Clay Frick and her daughter, Miss Helen Frick, of Pride's Crossing, have returned from their trip abroad and are now at the New York home on East Seventieth street.

William H. Vanderbilt of Louisburg square will go over to Gotham to act as usher at the wedding of Miss Marie Brooke and Alan Harriman. It will take place in St. Bartholomew's Church on April 21.

Miss Frances Dewart, a bud of the '23-'24 season, is spending a few weeks visiting in New York, Philadelphia and the capital. She is with her father, the Rev. William H. Dewart of Machester-by-the-Sea.

Sir Alfred and Lady Robbin of London are spending a few days in Boston at the Copley-Plaza.

What Bay Staters Are Saying

E. H. WILSON, assistant director of the Arnold Arboretum, has returned from an investigation trip to New Zealand, where he recorded plant life in "movies." He brought back with him dried plants for experimental purposes at the Arboretum.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. CHANNING COX are now full-fledged members of Siloam Shrine, No. 3, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem—a Masonic order. The Governor and his wife were initiated in a field of 200 candidates.

DR. WILLIAM J. REAL of Amherst, scientist and professor emeritus of botany at Michigan Agricultural School, mowed wood on his 91st birthday and received congratulations of friends at his home in Sunset avenue, Amherst.

JOSEPH LOW, Boston newspaperman, has been elected exalted ruler of the Wakefield Lodge of Elks. He is the youngest exalted ruler ever to head this lodge.

GAYLORD C. CUMMINGS of Newton will be engaged by the Concord, N. H., aldermanic finance committee to survey city departments in that city and place them on a more satisfactory working basis.

CHARLES BARNARD CHAPMAN of Roxbury has been elected president of the Colby Young Men's Christian Association at Waterville, Me. The new president is a junior at Colby College.

MAYOR CURLEY has been enrolled as a life member in both the Elks and the Fraternal Order of Orioles. Also he is wearing in his lapel a miniature teapot, significant of the "Teapot Dome" expose.

BROCKTON IS STILL CRIPPLED FROM STORM

Fire Alarm System Disabled and Only One Shoe Factory Has Power

Brockton, March 13.—With only one large shoe factory in operation and the city without a working fire alarm system, Brockton is slowing recovering from the storm.

The W. L. Douglas Company, one of the biggest shoe firms, is operating with its own power plant, but the George E. Keith Company and other shoe manufacturers will remain closed until Monday.

The break in the big power cables supplying Brockton with current, which left the city without power or light, has been repaired, but the mass of crossed telephone, lighting and power wires makes it impossible to turn on the current generaly, and only the central section of the city is being furnished electricity.

Sixty members of the fire department have been detailed to patrol the streets as a fire patrol, while all citizens have been warned to telephone fire department in case of fire.

Swiss Post for Gibson

Washington, March 13.—Hugh Gibson, Minister to Poland, probably will succeed Minister Joseph Grew, at Berne, Switzerland. Mr. Grew has been ordered to Washington to become Under-Secretary of State.

FAIR WEATHER TO REMAIN 2 DAYS MORE

Springlike Temperature Is Assured as the Northeast Winds Diminish

The Weather Man put one over the centerfield fence with the bases loaded, today.

He announced that the Spring-like weather which greeted New England today would be continued tonight and Friday and that the north and northeast winds now blowing will gradually diminish. Not much change in temperature is indicated for the next twenty-four hours.

The only fly in the ointment is the fact that there is a storm area in the lower Mississippi Valley and this is sweeping eastward. The Weather Man don't sure that this storm will behave and keep going due east; but he's rather optimistic and declares there is an excellent chance of New England escaping it altogether.

Incidentally, tabs have been kept on the storm which created such havoc in Boston and vicinity on Tuesday and Wednesday. The storm is now out at sea off Newfoundland, and still going east.

From Washington comes the news that storm warnings are up from St. Louis to Florida, but the remainder of the country is enjoying very seasonable weather.

RIOTOUS PEGGY LASSOED BY BATTLING COP

House Cat Resented Boy's Kick and Attacked Him and Mother

New York, March 13 (I.N.S.).—"Peggy," a common house cat, nearly caused a riot today, had two casualties to her credit, fought with a policeman and was finally arrested.

The cat started by attacking Tommy Lursch, twelve, when he kicked her for no reason at all.

Tommy was not dressed at the time and the havoc was considerable.

Mrs. Lursch rushed to Tommy's defence and Peggy turned on her.

The screams of mother and son roused the neighbors, who feared a murder, and called Patrolman John Sauer to investigate.

The cat turned its attention from Mrs. Lursch's hand to the cop. He chased her into the hallway and subdued her after a fight and tied her with a rope.

The neighborhood saw Peggy led to the police station. City Health Department officials later examined her to see if she had rabies.

DEFEAT $20,000,000 FARM RELIEF BILL

Washington, March 13.—A proposed appropriation of $20,000,000 to bolster the credit of banks in the Northwest was defeated today in the Senate, where it was offered by Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico, as an amendment to the Norbeck-Burtness farm relief bill.

BEAUTY THRIVES ON OPPOSITION

MUSCLE OIL is opposed to all flabbiness and sagging muscles. $2.00 a bottle. Pat it on gently. Of course you know that rubbing stretches the skin. All beauty specialists say cream, skin food and lotions should be patted on with the finger-tips.

SIMILAR TO A CLAY PACK is a special remedy for wrinkles and crow's feet. $2.00 a tube. Use it before going to bed.

PROTECT YOUR SKIN from spring winds. A windproof cream sells for $1.00. Helps to prevent sallowness. Invisible in use.

REDUCE REDNESS of the nose with a vein lotion. $3.00. Counteracts small wavy red lines and broken veins on side of nose or cheeks.

SAGGING SKIN can be braced by the use of a mask treatment. $3.00. Follow the directions carefully and see how it brings back youthful contour to your face.

AT BEDTIME apply a good pore cream. $1.25. Reduces the size of the pores and the sallow texture of the skin comes back. Invigorates the cells, too. Refines a coarse skin.

TO GET RID OF blotches, use an acne soap. $1.25. Helpful for excess of oiliness, blackheads and pimples.

ANOTHER MEMBER of the opposition is anti-wrinkle cream. $2.00. Good for removing that tired look around the eyes and mouth. Put it on, then rest.

A SPECIAL ASTRINGENT is made of imported herbs. $2.25. It is patted briskly into the skin twice a day with absorbent cotton. New life to ageing faces that are relaxed or sunken. An astringent closes the pores.

ESPECIALLY FOR OILY skins is a bleaching cream. $1.00. Use it before you go out. Excellent when the skin is badly discolored.

SAVE TOWELS and laundry bills by using cleansing tissues. Soft, silky. 40 cents a roll. Unusually absorbent. At night, when you use cold cream. Put a few in the guest room. Good for traveling.

OPPOSED TO ROUGH elbows is an elbow strap. Wear at night, after applying cold cream. Softens, whitens and rounds elbows.

PRISCILLA PRICE.

CHARGES PLOT BY FAMILY OF BERGDOLL

Army Officer Attacks Bill to Deprive Him of Pay; Tells of Threat

San Antonio, Texas, March 13.—The army bill as reported to the House today to deny further pay to Major C. C. Cresson of Fort Sam Houston was branded as a malicious attempt to injure him by Major Cresson.

"A member of the Bergdoll family told me 'we'll get you yet, Cresson, for your persecution of the Bergdoll family.'" Major Cresson declared. The threat followed his prosecution of Bergdoll for evasion of the selective draft, the major said.

Major Cresson has demanded that he be summoned to Washington at once to be heard on this proposed amendment to the army appropriations to have "this propaganda about me stopped immediately."

Washington, March 13.—The Army bill, as reported to the House today, would deny further army pay to Colonel John E. Hunt, retired, who was in command of the disciplinary barracks at Fort Jay, N. Y., when Grover Cleveland Bergdoll escaped, and to Major C. C. Cresson, who was the judge advocate of the court-martial before which Colonel Hunt was tried, and acquitted on charges growing out of the incident.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

SAYS CORCORAN MADE NO BID FOR MONEY

Newton Man in Cambridge "Raid" Thought It Was to Be Gander Party

Kenneth Merrill, Newton textile manufacturer, under cross-examination at the trial of William J. Corcoran and others in Middlesex Superior Court today, testified that Corcoran never made any demands on him for money following a "raid" on a napartment at No. 88 Hancock street, Cambridge.

In the apartment at the time of the so-called raid were Merrill, Mrs. Theresa Durgan and Mrs. Lillian Reese.

Merrill was cross-examined by Joseph P. Walsh, attorney for Corcoran, who asked if he had ever talked money matters with Corcoran either immediately following the "raid" or later. Merrill said he had not. He said that Corcoran, who was one of the men who entered the apartment while the party was in progress, advised him to see his attorney and that later he left the apartment in company with Corcoran and rode with him as far as the Cottage Farm bridge.

Mr. Merrill further testified that he asked Corcoran to represent him in the case and that the following morning he consulted his private attorney.

When questioned, he stated that he was unable to identify J. Warren Kane and Theodore Bearse as the men who entered the apartment.

Under redirect cross-examination the witness said a man named Levenson called at the apartment some time after the arrival of the other men and that Levenson and Corcoran had a conference in another room. He declared he had never seen Levenson before and would not know him now.

Questioned about the party, Merrill said he thought when the invitation was extended to him over the telephone that it would be a convivial affair, but that there would be only men present.

SAY HEATON TRIED TO OPERATE ON TWO

Columbia, S. C., March 13.—Richard H. Heaton, who was killed in Louisville last Saturday by William Gates, who, in his confession to the police, declared Heaton had kidnaped him and held him prisoner for the purpose of performing an operation on him, was wanted in Lake City, S. C., for two attempted attacks, similar to that on Gates, according to The (Columbia) State.

According to the story, the attacks were attempted last November and December by Heaton, a confederate known as W. A. Rogers and an unknown woman. The assaults were made on a prominent citizen of Lake City, whose name attorneys in the case have concealed. The attorneys said Heaton had been positively identified.

What Bay Staters Are Saying

PROFESSOR W. B. MUNRO of Harvard, in the Graduates' Magazine, current issue, says: "There can be no great detriment in having a hundred thousand people attend a Harvard-Yale football game, rather than half that number. There is little doubt that a stadium twice as large would be crowded for the big game."

PHILIP CABOT, in a Steinert address before members of the Women's City Club, said: "The drillmaster or common drudge posing as a teacher in any field of the arts and sciences or in the field of religion makes a failure. The main function of a teacher is to illuminate and arouse the romantic idealism of the pupil."

PROFESSOR ROBERT E. ROGERS of Tech believes the day of majority control by political parties is gone. "We have learned for the first time what a bloc means," he told the Boston Woman's Civics Club. "It looks as if American politics must take the course followed by politics in Europe. A majority will have to be obtained by agreement of two main factions in the government."

A HARVARD golf course costing $300,000 is a little too expensive for the Cambridge University, in the opinion of Graduate Treasurer Moors of the Harvard Athletic Association. "A golf course is altogether too expensive to obtain in the first place," he declared in an interview, "and is too expensive to keep up afterwards. Our annual surplus will not stand any further burden."

JEREMIAH E. BURKE, superintendent of schools, told members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs that Boston affords opportunities for the progressive school child as well as it does for backward pupils. "For the child who is ahead of its class," he said, "there are schools with a double promotion system, as well as schools that offer difficult work, such as the Latin School."

IDLENESS, DRINKING, CHARGED TO POLICE

Two patrolmen attached to the Roxbury Crossing station went on trial today before a trial board of captains, one charged with loafing in a fire station off his beat; the other charged with being drunk on duty. The patrolmen are Walter B. Horton, colored, and James S. Kelly.

The latter, who is charged with drunkenness, claims he was sick, but stuck to his job.

PLANES AND SALUTE TO WELCOME DENBY

Detroit, Mich. March 13.—An escort of automobiles and airplanes, the latter from Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, will meet Edwin Denby as escort him to City Hall, when he arrives from Washington. A salute of bombs will greet him.

"Welcome home, Ned," is the slogan of the reception. Acting Mayor Martin will welcome Denby at the City Hall and a testimonial dinner at the Board of Commerce is planned for the evening.

FINDS $100,000 GOLD COIN IN OLD HOUSE

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 14.—Gold coin estimated at about $100,000 has been found in an iron box here in a secret compartment of an old house being torn down by Adrian Leever to make way for an apartment house.

The house was built in 1860 by Jackson D. Knight, president of the First National Bank. Knight and his wife have been dead for about thirty years. The money is being held by Leever pending claim by heirs of Knight. As far as can be ascertained, Knight has no near relatives living.

WLADEK ZBYSZKO AND STASIAK IN BOUT TO FINISH TONIGHT

RIVAL POLES ARE FIT FOR GRUELLING MAT TEST

By JACK CONWAY.

Stanley Stasiak and Wladek Zbyszko, the two leading contenders for a bout with Strangler Lewis, will battle for the right to meet the champion when they clash in a finish wrestling bout, best two out of three, at the Old Howard's monster show at the Grand Opera House tonight. There is intense interest in the meeting between these internationally famous Polish grapplers and it is expected that the largest crowd of the season will be on hand to witness festivities.

George Kotsonaros

When Stasiak and Zbyszko clashed recently, the decision went to the latter after one of the most spectacular mat contests ever staged in this city. Each wrestler had scored a fall when Zbyszko hurled the giant Stasiak over the ropes and out of the ring. Although stunned and badly bruised, Stanley refused to quit or claim the victory on a foul. He persisted in continuing wrestlin and was soon thrown for the third and deciding fall.

This writer was amazed at the remarkable showing Stasiak made. It was his first major effort after coming out of the City Hospital, where he was confined for a week following injuries received in a tussle with Joe Alvarez. We considered Stasiak unwise, and rather headstrong, to go through with his tussle with Zbyszko under such conditions. Rather than be accused of being a quitter, Stasiak entered the ring against the famous Zbyszko and gave the best he had in the way of clean, hard grappling.

Stasiak will be in better condition for tonight's frolic. He showed in his recent winning engagement with Farmer Bailey that he is fit to tackle Zbyszko or any other headliner in the wrestling game.

Zbyszko, who rules a favorite, appeared in remarkable physical condition when he arrived in this city. The younger of the celebrated Zbyszko brothers says he will force the issue from the bell tonight, and that he will count with two falls well inside of two hours.

"And I won't throw Stasiak over the ropes either," said Zbyszko. "The big fellow wouldn't have gone over the ropes in our last match if he had shown enough courage to do his wrestling in the centre of the ring. He kept crawling along the ropes most of the time, so that when I would get a good hold he would be in a position to get off the mat before I could pin his shoulders to the mat.

"It was, therefore, impossible for me to prevent Stasiak from going over the ropes. He could have fallen in the ring if he had wished, but he figured it would pounce upon him and count with a fall. So he deflected himself over the ropes. If he was injured, it was his own fault, not mine."

Stasiak and Zbyszko will be surrounded by one of the strongest preliminary cards of the season. Frank Judson, former Harvard wrestling instructor, will have Jack Albright of Chicago as an opponent, while George Kotsonaros, Greek light-heavyweight champion, will tackle Savage Tonios, one of his most persistent Greek challengers.

FIRPO TO FIGHT WILLS, SAYS JOHNSTON

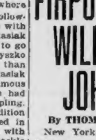
By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY

New York, March 13.—James J. Johnston, promoter and manager, says that Luis Firpo has agreed to fight Harry Wills at the Cromwell A. C. next Summer.



Luis Firpo

He made the statement after a conference with Billy Mc Carney, American representative of the Argentinian.

The Cromwell A. C. is the name of the club which operated last season at the Yankee Stadium, where it held the Benny Leonard-Lew Tendler fight. Johnston is understood to have big backing in his promotion ventures.

Promoter Tex Rickard, who offered Firpo $500,000 to fight Wills under his direction, refuses to get excited on reports that Firpo does this or does that.

Recently, Lew Raymond was supposed to angle for Firpo and Wills, and declared to have had. Wills. It appears, always is willing to fight anyone, and does not make much fuss about money as other fistic folk.

But the Raymond thing is dead.

Whether Johnson can see his way to go higher than Rickard for the fight is a question. Rickard positively refuses to increase his offer. He made Wills an offer of $100,000.

Jack Conway Favors Stasiak IF Pole Can Control Temper

"I am going to make a selection with an IF in it," opened Jack as he looked into his mystic crystal.

"And it's a BIG IF," continued the Boston American's expert. "IF Stanley Stasiak can control his TEMPER he will defeat Wladek Zbyszko in their finish mat bout at the Old Howard's show at the Grand Opera House.

"I picked Zbyszko to win over Stasiak in their last tussle, because I had the tip straight from the City Hospital, where Stanley had been a patient for a week following injuries received in his tussle with Joe Alvarez. that the giant Pole was not fit for a strenuous bout with a headliner like Zbyszko. Stasiak is now ready as he proved by beating Farmer Bailey and IF he can control his wild, and sometimes ungovernable TEMPER, he will gain victory this p. m."

Jack has picked thirty-six winners out of a possible forty this year.

FREDDY DUFFY IS TO BE GIVEN TESTIMONIAL

Freddy Duffy

As a boxer, Duffy was one of the outstanding figures in his class. His amazing speed, skill and punching power enabled him to defeat some of the leading lightweights and welterweights in the world.

When he retired from the ring, Duffy went into the trucking business. For a time all went well. His business prospered, he was very happy with his devoted wife and seven children. Then the grim reaper entered the Duffy household and called the loving mother.

A week later a fire destroyed the barn in which Freddy kept his trucks. He didn't have them insured and so suffered a total loss.

SHARKEY MAY BE BOXING DEMPSEY IN A YEAR

By RINGSIDE.

Jack Sharkey of Roxbury, a former sailor, who may be fighting Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship within a year, will receive the well known acid test when he clashes with Eddie Record of Nashua, N. H., in a ten-round bout at the Armory A. A.'s show at the Grand Opera House on next Tuesday night.

Eddie Record

Sharkey, a youth of twenty-two, looks so promising that Jack Bulger, who pilots Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, offered $10,000 for his five-year contract with Johnny Buckley. The latter merely laughed at Bulger's offer. He considers his interest in Sharkey worth at least half a million dollars. This may seem a great deal of money, but if Sharkey is able to keep improving until he can win over Dempsey he will make good Buckley's faith in him.

Record will prove just how great Sharkey's possibilities are. Eddie is more experienced than the former heavyweight champion of the navy, while is faster.

But can he keep out of the way of Sharkey's tremendous punch? No boxer has yet gone six rounds with Sharkey. Which is saying a great deal, as Jack battled all of the tough birds in the navy as well as some rugged professionals.

Ted Coolidge of Manchester, N. H., who recently knocked out Whitey Allen, will oppose Jack McLellan of Somerville in the semi-final of eight rounds. Mike Mandot of Cambridge will box eight frames with Charley Flanagan of Dorchester, while Young Nolan of England will have some good 126-pound youth as a rival in another eight.

KIRBY AND JOHNSON TO CLASH AT LYNN.

It is expected that Tom Kirby, amateur star, and Johnny Johnson, rugged colored heavyweight, will clash in the feature bout of the heavyweight class at the open amateur show of the Pioneer A. A. of Lynn tomorrow night. These boys are too heavy for the other youths in the heavyweight division, and so are sure to have it out in the final.

The 126-pound class will also be open, while the novices will show at 112 and 147 pounds. Louis Penny reports a healthy entry list.

CAMBRIDGE ELKS TO STAGE AMATEUR RING SHOW

Cambridge Lodge of Elks will hold an amateur boxing tournament at its quarters on April 3. There will be tussles at 112, 118, 125 and 147 pounds, and in the heavyweight division. Entries should be made with James J. Murphy, Cambridge Lodge of Elks, Cambridge.

PAT McCARTHY READY TO BATTLE AGAIN

Jim MacDonald announces that Pat McCarthy's injured hand is in condition again and that the Roxbury light-heavyweight is prepared to clash with Johnny Wilson, Mike McTigue, Harry Greb or Gene Tunney. Frank Moody, British boxer, may also receive consideration from McCarthy.

Gus Gardella May Stick

Springfield, March 13.—Gus Gardella will confer with Denny Hayton and J. McArthur Vance of the Pittsfield club and there is a chance that the Eastern League's oldest player may decide not to quit organized ball, after all.

LYNN CLUB HAS BOUT MARCH 17

Al Shubert

Such a battle will take place on St. Patrick's night with such celebrated performers as Billy Murphy of Lowell and Al Shubert of New Bedford. Nothing could be better. They will clash in the feature bout at the Casino A. C., Lynn, on Monday night.

It will be Williams vs. Williams in the semi-final: Irish Kid Williams of Worcester will swap punches with Lefty Williams of Lowell.

Jimmy Plaza of Beverly, a tough aggressive youngster, will meet Tommy Clayton of Boston in a six rounder and in the opening bout of six rounds Leo Barry of Peabody who has been a star in the amateurs will make his debut as a professional with Dan Donovan of Cambridge.

WESTERN ICE TITLE PLAY FOR NEXT WEEK

Cleveland, Ohio, March 13.—The Western group championship of the United States Amateur Hockey League today appeared to rest between Pittsburgh and Cleveland. By defeating St. Paul 1 to 0 in an overtime game last night, Cleveland virtually eliminated it from further chances at the title, which it did last year. St. Paul has lost three games and won one. Its last games for the title are with Pittsburgh Saturday and Monday.

Cleveland has won three of its four contests, while Pittsburgh has won one and tied St. Paul in another.

The championship, it is expected will be decided by the four games between Pittsburgh and Cleveland March 18, 20, 22, 24.

Will Play on Saturday

The Cathedral Club will play the Bunker Hill K. of C. Saturday night at Roxbury High school in a Greater Boston League game.

GIBBONS SIGNS FOR DEMPSEY CONTEST

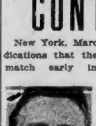
New York, March 13.—Despite indications that the proposed return match early in June between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons would be shelved, Tex Rickard declared that he is in the field for the match.



Jack Kearns

He will make a definite offer within a few days to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

Faced with the statements of Dempsey and Kearns that the titleholder's next bout and only 1924 battle probably will be against Luis Firpo in September, Rickard reiterated that he will go ahead with Dempsey-Gibbons plans. The promoter already has obtained Gibbons to terms.

PRINCETON STILL IN BASKET TITLE RACE

STANDING OF TEAMS

| Princeton | 5 | 2 | Yale | 3 | 6 |
| Columbia | 5 | 4 | Penn | 3 | 6 |

Princeton, N. J., March 13.—Princeton stayed in the race for intercollegiate basketball honors when it defeated Dartmouth here last night, 40 to 24. The victory leaves the Tigers in second place with five victories and three defeats, and in order to tie for the title with Cornell they must win from the Ithacans here Saturday night and again from Dartmouth in Hanover next Tuesday.

Myers Is Centre Coach

Richmond, Ky., March 13.—Robert L. Myers has been appointed head coach of the Centre College football team succeeding "Uncle Charlie" Moran who resigned to become coach of Bucknell College.

Who Do YOU Think Won the Gardner-Friedman Bout?

Abe Friedman

"Who won the Gardner-Friedman bout?" he queried.

"Friedman got the decision," replied one of the young men at the sport desk.

"I didn't ask who won the decision," replied Jack. "I want to know who won the fight. I was storm bound and so didn't attend the contest. But in my parade around town as many people tell me Gardner won as there are fans who figured Friedman was out front. I picked Gardner to win, but that's not here nor there. I want to know who won the fight. And you may throw out the official verdict in giving your answer."

Spencer Gardner

The Sporting Editor has handed Jack's question along to those fans who witnessed the mill. Write out your decision and send it to Jack Conway, Boston American, Boston. He will be glad to read as well as publish your views.

RHODE ISLAND WILL PLAY WITH HARVARD

Kingston, R. I., March 13.—Rhode Island State College baseball schedule includes the following dates:

April 12, Wesleyan at Middleton; 25, Maine; 29, North Carolina Trinity; May 2, Holy Cross at Worcester; 3, Northeastern at Boston; 10, Clark; 15, Northeastern; 17, Worcester Tech at Worcester; 24, Conn. Aggies; 27, Trinity; 29, St. Michael's; June 7, Connecticut Aggies at Storrs, Ct.

Pete Donohue Is in Form

Orlando, Fla., March 13.—Pete Donohue, pitcher, surprised Jack Hendricks, manager of the Reds, in cutting loose with some real pitching. Hendricks was obliged to stop him. Pete showed dazzling form.

On all sides is heard high praise of Hupmobile's greater beauty.

CHEVROLET

FLAT RATE SERVICE

A New Plan Appealing to Thrifty Chevrolet Owners

Flat Rate Service—the kind of service you have been waiting for, is now at your call. We have adopted this new method of handling charges for repair work because it enables every Chevrolet owner to get an intelligent estimate of the cost of repairs before the work is started.

Our repair shops are guided by a schedule of repair operations, each covering a specific repair job with the exact average time indicated plainly. The standard price list of Chevrolet Parts gives the exact cost of replacement parts needed. These are the facts that take the uncertainty out of service work.

The Flat Rate System makes for better work at lower prices, because repair men spend their time doing only what you have ordered. That's what we charge for, and you know in advance what it will cost.

Our shops are equipped with special Chevrolet tools. No repair job is too large or too small to be handled efficiently and at minimum cost to you.

TRI-CITY BOUTS ON MARCH 24

Followers of amateur boxing will witness an international simon-pure tournament at Mechanics Building, March 24 when the Toronto boxers come to this city to meet the star amateurs of Boston and Buffalo.

William Caddy

Boston will be represented by the best boys in the several divisions. The international classes will be at 118, 126, 135 and 147 lbs.

It is expected that the Toronto team will be boys who will represent Canada in the Olympics this summer at Paris and for this reason, the strength of the Boston and Buffalo boys will be tested.

In addition to the tri-city bouts, there will be bouts in three open classes at 112 and 160 lbs. and heavyweight.

WOMEN STAR IN SWIM RACES

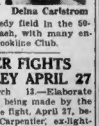
The feature of tonight's swimming meet under the auspices of the Brookline Swimming Club will be the 220-yard women's championship event, the winner of which will be selected to represent the United States at the Olympic games next Summer.

Miss Gertrude Ederle, champion for that distance, will have a hard fight on her hands, as she will have opposed to her Delma Carlstrom of Worcester and Molly McEttrick of the Brookline Swimming Club.



Delma Carlstrom

There is a speedy field in the 50-yard handicap dash, with many entries from the Brookline Club.

CARPENTER FIGHTS TOWNLEY APRIL 27

Must Move From Armory

The Boston University track and field team which has had the First Corps Cadet Armory for indoor training, must seek new quarters next year, as the armory will not be available for it.

Better Bodies At A Lower Cost

MERITAS MADE FABRIC BODY

Special 4 CAR Exhibit

Boston Auto Show
Revere Hall Mechanics Building
March 8 to 15

THE merit of the Fabric Body has resulted in unusual recognition and progress, in Europe and America.

The Meritas Made Fabric Body eliminates all noises due to vibration, is strikingly handsome and distinctive in appearance, light in weight, easily cared for and repaired, and, covered with Meritas Leather Cloth, retains its lustre indefinitely, even under usage which quickly dulls a paint job.

In brief a better body at a lower cost, both in initial purchase and maintenance.

The Meritas Made Fabric Body is built on a standard iron-strapped wood frame, and substitutes for wooden or metal panels, a stout wire netting, two layers of wadding, canvas, and an outer covering of Meritas Leather Cloth, a durable, two-ply material specially made for this purpose.

RED SOX TURN OVER FOUR PLAYERS TO SAN ANTONIO BEARS

PIERCY IS WITHIN FOLD

By FRED C. LANE

San Antonio, Tex., March 13.—The Bears get four players from the Red Sox, for Manager Lee Fohl has swung his axe again and four more heads were knocked off the Boston American club roster. All were sent to the San Antonio club.

Two pitchers and two infielders were turned over to the local club. Pitchers Clarence Blethen who came from Frederick, Md., and who had a chance with the scarlet hosed nine last season, and Dewey Marshall are the pitchers who were released by the Foblies. The two other players are Infielder Frank Fuller and Infielder Ewell Gross.

The Red Sox will miss none. Blethen is a spit baller and can go big in the Texas League. At least so Manager Bob Coleman thinks.

So it can be seen that Fohl has been busy, for already nine rookies have been cast adrift.

President Quinn is not worrying any more, for Bill Piercy, the holdout pitcher, has come to terms and will report immediately.

VICTORY GIVES B. A. A. WINSOR CUP PRIZE

Boston College lost a chance to land the Winsor Cup, when it allowed the B. A. A. to skate off with a 5 to 1 victory at the Arena. Geran's exhibition of perfection in the delayed pass spelled defeat for the Eagles.

Jack Culinane

For the first two periods, the Unicorn was unable to pierce the Maroon and Gold defence. Either Mullowpay or Foley drove the rubber away from the line. Both Small and Geran were unsuccessful in attempts to skate by the Eagle's last line of resistance.

NATIONAL DOUBLES WILL START TODAY

Philadelphia, March 13.—Play will begin today at the Philadelphia Cricket Club in the national court tennis doubles championship tournament.

George W. Wightman and W. C. Bowditch of the B. A. A. will oppose Fulton Cutting and C. Suydam Cutting of New York, and J. C. Bell, Jr., and W. C. Wright will meet G. N. Robinson and N. Sanderson.

EDDIE O'CONNOR MAY BE EXETER'S COACH

Worcester, March 13.— Eddie O'Connor of Worcester is now considered likely to get the position as Exeter track coach. O'Connor has been at Purdue for half a dozen years or more.

His abilities as track coach are well known in the East. Norman Tabor, who holds the world's record for the mile run, 4 minutes 12 3-5 seconds, a former Brown University runner, is Eddie O'Connor's product.

RETAIL STORES BOWLERS IN MATCHES

Four matches in the Retail Stores Bowling League were rolled at the weekly session. There were three regular contests and one was a rolloff of a postponed match.

In the scheduled matches R. H. White Co. made a clean sweep against Jones, McDuffee & Stratton Co. Wm. Filene's Sons Co. won all four games from E. E. Gray Co., and C. F. Hovey Co. took all four points from Chandler & Co.

The Summerfield's-Wm. Leavens Co. and Houghton, Dutton Co.-Ferdinand's matches were postponed.

Kilfoyle of White's with 144 had the high individual single string and Whitney of Hovey's with 350 the high individual three-string total.

Filene's, with 519, had the high team single string and Hovey's, with 1524, the high team three-string total.

FERGUSON WAS HARD ONE TO IDENTIFY

Harold W. Hayes, 147 Cedar st., Somerville.

Mrs. L. Forsyth, 474 Columbus ave., Boston.

Thomas F. Bowdren, 12 Princeton st., Charlestown.

James Hennessey, 141 Rindge ave., Cambridge.

William Burke, Fellows rd., Ipswich.

Picking the winners to picture number 8 was the hardest job the editor has had since the contest started. Fully 75 per cent. of the contestants called the picture that of Genewich of the Braves.

BRAVES BATTLE CARDINALS IN FIRST GAME

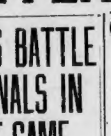
By NICK FLATLEY

Bradenton, Fla., March 13.—Manager Bancroft led his Braves into their first game in this village today and Manager B. wasn't what you would call sanguine of victory. His performers haven't had much chance to perform these last few days, although he did give them a real flock of work yesterday, both morning and afternoon.



Casey Stengel

Conditions weren't anything too good.. A high wind swept the field with a suggestion of icycles attached, but the young men who winter here absolutely needed the exercise to be in any kind of shape for this afternoon's pastime.

The Cardinals have been at it longer than the Braves and are in better shape for conflict accordingly. Already they have played and beaten the Dodgers, 12 to 3, and have staged daily practice games for more than a week.

The new Braves director isn't very much in favor of too many spring games. He would prefer another week for straight exercise.

But he was signed after all the dates had been arranged this year so he couldn't do anything about it.

We have an idea that things will be different next year.

FRESHMEN AMONG GREEN CHAMPIONS

Hanover, N. H., March 13.—Two freshmen are listed among the four new Dartmouth College boxing champions by virtue of the fourth college fistic tourney. Billy Knox defended and kept his title in the featherweight class and Phil Coykendall of Texas retained his place as champion of the 158 pound class.

146-Pound Class—Zbess, '27, defeated

Light Heavyweight Class—Obermeyer, '26, defeated Carnally, '25.

WILLIAMS ARRANGES DATES FOR TENNIS

Williamstown, March 13.—Yale and Dartmouth will meet Williams College in tennis this year, according to the following schedule made public here.

May 3, Union; 7, West Point at West Point; 10, Wesleyan at Middleton; 16, Yale at New Haven; 17, Dartmouth; 23, Harvard Business School at Boston; 24, Technology at Cambridge; 30, Amherst; 31, University of Pennsylvania.

June 2, Columbia (pending).

Matches will be played at Williamstown unless otherwise noted.

DALEY WINS FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Richard Daley of Lynn was the winner of the opening match in the New England pocket billiard championship at the State Theatre Club. He defeated "Peaches" Lyons of Charlestown, 125 to 59. There were required 20 innings to complete play. His highest run was 26. Other runs in double figures were 24, 20, 14 and 15 twice. Lyons' best effort was 16.

This evening Charlie Edwards of Pawtucket will engage Percy Saunders of Boston, otherwise known as "Young Irish."

TIGER NOT CERTAIN OF MEETING FIRPO

New York, March 13.—Jack Kearns stated today that in spite of interviews given out by Jack Dempsey in Chicago, nothing had been done about matching Dempsey and Firpo for a return bout next summer.

"Jack is taking it for granted, just like all the rest of us, that the bout will be arranged," Kearns said. "But frankly the matter hasn't been discussed as far as I am concerned."

Baseball Notes

Paso Robles, Cal., March 13.—Bill McKechnie thinks so well of his Pirate Yannigans after yesterday's game, when the youngsters again defeated the regulars, 6 to 2, that he says he might accompany them to San Jose next Sunday.

Lewiston, Fla., March 13.—The Phillies were rained today to show their stuff in an exhibition game with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Clearwater.

Montgomery, Ala., March 13.—Cold weather that struck through athletic frames continued today to discommode the Athletics. Because of the weather only one workout was held yesterday.

Tampa, Fla., March 13.—Manager Harris today decided to carry ten pitchers on the Washington staff this season. Four of these will be rookies, probably McGraw, Moon, Speece and Brogan.

New Orleans, March 13.—Miller Huggins, manager of the World's champion Yankees, gave voice today to several predictions, one of which was that his so-called "five-star" pitching staff would win ninety-five games in the American League this season, and that two youngsters, Koettger and Pipgras, should bring the total up to 105. "The Yankees should repeat in the American League and in the World's Series," Huggins declared. The five-star staff is composed of Bush, Hoyt, Pennock, Jones and Shawkey.

Cincinnati, O., March 13.—Carl Mays will make his debut as a pitcher for the Cincinnati Nationals today when he starts the first game of the season for the Reds against the Indianapolis Hoosiers at Plant City, Fla.

Detroit, Mich., March 13.—In the first practice baseball game of the training camp sojourn for the Detroit American League club, the regulars defeated the Yannigans, 2 to 2, at their camp at Augusta, Ga. Manager Cobb limited the game to six innings and led the losing team.

Cleveland, March 13.—Manager Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians apparently is figuring on using practically the same batting order against right-handed pitchers this year, according to reports from the Spring training camp of the Lakeland, Fla., baseball club, the leading off batting position followed by Ramon Speaker, Sewell, Burns, Stephenson Lutzke, catcher and pitcher. The first six batted .300 or better last year.

Chicago, March 13.—Fears are rife in the Chicago American training camp at Winterhaven, Fla., that Manager Frank Chance, ill in California, will be unable to join the team before the opening of the season here next month. Chance's plans to join the team Saturday was set aside yesterday when physicians refused to consent to his departure. Until Chance reports, the team will be in charge of Johnny Evers.

Chicago, March 13.—Talk of trades is current in the Cubs' Camp on Catalina Island, Cal., with the expected arrival tomorrow of Barney Dreyfus, owner of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Shortstops are believed involved with Charley Hollocher, Oub holdout, mentioned as a possible trade for Rabbit Maranville or Wright and Moore, picked up by Pirates in the minors last season.

Kneass Is Penn Captain

Philadelphia, March 13.—William Kneass of Philadelphia was elected captain of the University of Pennsylvania basketball team for next year.

Old Navy Sport Cups Are Collected at the Capital

Washington, March 13.—Approximately 100 silver loving cups testifying to athletic prowess and other deeds of valor and marksmanship have been collected from the old battleships of the United States and stored at the Navy Department.

The cups were turned in at the various navy yards from the cabins of men-of-war which have been put out of commission or scrapped under the naval treaties.

BOOK VICTORIAS AND EAGLES FRIDAY

The Victorias of Montreal will play Boston College tomorrow night. Canadians in this city assert that the Victorias are the true representatives of Eastern Canada hockey.

Sonny Foley.

One player on the Victoria team has an account to settle with the Eagles. Flin Flanagan was captain and star forward of the McGill team last year, which went down to defeat against the Maroon and Gold. He is flanked in the forward line by Boo Anderson another old McGill star, and Sir Slater of the Canadian Olympic team or Darcy Leamy of the Shamrocks of Ottawa.

Next to Toronto University this is the flashiest forward line Boston College will face this season.

Baseball's First Challenge Is Here

The first robin was lost in the snowstorm. But here's the first baseball challenge of the season. Appropriately enough, it comes from the St. Patrick C. C. of Cambridge. These early baseball birds want a game for April 19, and want to hear from any fast amateur nine in New England. Last year St. Patrick's won 34 out of 42 games. Sounds well, and the challenge should stir up the other, still dormant amateurs.

WOMAN WEAK DIZZY, FAINT

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It.

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it."—Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TWO ARE HELD UP BY FIVE BANDITS

Insurance Collector Robbed in Malden; "L" Brakeman Is Somerville Victim

Two Greater Boston men were held up and robbed by gunmen.

Emmett Cleveland of No. 17 Medford street, Malden, an insurance collector, was held up as he was walking on Ashton street, Everett, by two armed men who beat him into unconsciousness and robbed him of between $150 and $160 in cash.

Cleveland was found in the snow by a resident. The latter summoned the police and the victim was being removed to the hospital when he regained consciousness. At the police station it was discovered that Cleveland's clothes had been slashed in several places.

The Somerville police are seeking a clue to the three masked gunmen who held up George Oscar Childs, an "L" brakeman, as he was passing through Indiana avenue on his way to his home at No. 12 Maine terrace, Somerville, and robbed him of $1.02 and a key used in opening the doors of "L" trains.

FREED BY JURY ON GIRL'S COMPLAINT

Morris Grouse, Dorchester, charged with attacking a thirteen-year-old girl, was found not guilty by a jury in Suffolk Superior Court today. Harry Pearlman, cited for contempt after a government witness, wife of a colored policeman, testified he had tried to bribe her into giving false testimony in connection with the case, was freed after a lecture by Judge Irwin.

M. Steinert, Leader in Music World, 63 Tomorrow

One of the men who has been most active in maintaining Boston's high standing in the music world is Alexander Steinert, treasurer and general manager of the M. Steinert & Sons Co. for many years one of the leading firms manufacturing pianos in America.

M. Steinert

Mr. Steinert comes of a family that has long been intimately associated with the music life of the country. Tomorrow is his birthday. Born in Athens, Ga., on March 14, 1861, he remained in the southland but a short time.

Mr. Steinert served for a number of years as a member of the Boston Art Commission.

Send a letter or card of congratulations to him at No. 162 Boylston street, Boston.

COOLIDGE, KENYON, IN NEW CONFERENCE

Washington, March 13.—Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa conferred with President Coolidge again today regarding the President's tender to him of the post of Secretary of the Navy. Indications were that he declined to accept.

Neither he nor White House officials would make any immediate statement, but an announcement was promised before the day was over.

FRANC SOARING ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

Gaining of $100,000,000 Credit in United States Sends Price Higher

New York, March 13.—Fortified by the $100,000,000 credit established here for the bank of France, the French franc mounted 15 points to 4.35 cents at the opening of today's foreign exchange market and then soared another 11 points to 4.46. The rise, following earlier gains in London, was accelerated by a rush of short covering.

Announcement that J. P. Morgan & Company would head an American Banking Syndicate which would advance credit to the Bank of France brought an enormous volume of buying orders overnight.

Short interests in the bank, which have been swelled to large proportions in the recent downward flight of the currency virtually were stampeded in an effort to protect themselves.

Paris, March 13.—The statement of the Bank of France issued today showed a total of notes in circulation of 39,923,800,000 francs, a decrease of 536,132,000. This compares with an increase of 921,226,000 francs during the preceding week.

Being exposed to weather didn't help his cough any—but Rem did

Rain or shine, warm or cold, the gates on the Monongahela Incline in Pittsburgh have to be attended to. And the gateman on the job has to take the weather as it comes.

Mr. H. Spaniol took the weather as it came and a bad bronchial cough resulted. But REM came to his aid and he stayed on the job. Read what his wife says:

"My husband is gateman at the top of the Monongahela Incline, and he's out in all sorts of weather—rain, snow and everything. A time back he got a bad bronchial cough that was very painful. When he coughed it would hurt him right through to his back.

"He's not much at taking medicine but finally I got him to try REM, because a friend of mine told me how good it is for coughs. It helped him a whole lot. He didn't have any more pain in his chest and he didn't have any more bad coughing spells. And before long he was all right again.

"I used REM too— so did my daughter and her husband, with the same results. We give it to the children too at the first sign of a cough. I've got a bottle on hand now that's never been opened. I like to have it right here when we need it."

It speaks well for a remedy when it quiets a cough quickly.

One of the reasons REM so often does so is because of a special ingredient, (too expensive for old-style slower-acting cough syrups). Clinging to your throat as you swallow, it quickly soothes the sore, inflamed throat tissues.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates.

$250 FOR BLACK EYE FROM 'BUTTER IN'

ALLEN BOWEN AND MARION WAITE

A punch over the eye for objecting to another dancer "cutting in" damaged Allen F. Bowen of Providence $250 worth, a jury in Suffolk Superior Court decided today.

Damages in this amount were awarded to Bowen against James H. Reed, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, Brookline by the jury before which an assault case, growing out of a dance at the Biltmore Hotel in Providence, on December 26, 1922, was heard. Bowen sued for $2,000.

Reed was alleged to have met Bowen in the hotel lobby following the dance and to have struck him over the eye in retaliation for the objection to Reed's "cutting in" when Bowen was dancing with Miss Marion C. Waite, Providence girl.

The assault created considerable of a furore among the elite of Providence and Boston, the dance having been an exclusive affair for which an admission fee of $20 was charged.

According to Bowen's statement in court, Miss Waite, on two separate occasions, declined to allow Reed to "cut in" while she was dancing with him.

Following the second refusal, he said, Reed brought up and introduced a Mr. Faulkner, who also expressed a desire to finish the dance with Miss Waite. She refused this invitation, Bowen said, because she is a tall girl and Mr. Faulkner is a man short in stature.

Later, it was testified, Reed met Bowen in the foyer and asked him why he had treated him "in such a manner." When Bowen turned away from Reed after telling him he didn't care to discuss the matter, the latter surprised him with a punch over the eye, Bowen said.

Miss Waite, who had danced with Reed previously in the evening, said she judged from the odor of his breath that he was intoxicated. She also declared Mr. Faulkner appeared to be in the same condition.

Reed declared he had nothing to drink when he dined with a friend in Woonsocket before the dance. He also said his friend Faulkner was not drunk.

$107,000 ROBBERY CHARGED

Fortier Held by Newark Police for New York Authorities

Newark, N. J., March 13.—An idyllic romance that had its beginning years ago in a Vermont town had a cruel awakening when Ernest Fortier, twenty-eight, was taken by police from his bride at No. 1101 Broad street here.

The police charged him with being the man that looted the apartment of Mrs. Celeste Waite, opera singer, at the Great Northern Hotel in New York last January 14 of $7,000 in jewelry and $100,000 in bonds. He was locked up at police headquarters to await extradition to New York City.

One of the articles stolen from Mrs. Waite, detectives said, was a diamond brooch in the center of which was a large solitaire. This stone according to the police Fortier had reset into an engagement ring.

When Mrs. Fortier was asked to show this ring she said her husband had asked for it, saying that his partner in the jewelry business was badly in need of money.

According to Frank Jones, owner of the Broad street house, the detectives told him that Fortier was a desperate character and had vowed he would not be taken alive. They suggested that Fortier be called from his room on the pretext that he was wanted on the telephone.

The prisoner's wife, Vivien, a twenty-one-year-old girl, answered Jones' knock on the door. As she opened it the detectives rushed in and pointing revolvers, ordered Fortier to dress.

It was to Jones that Mrs. Fortier told the story of her romance. She said:

"My parents are influential people in Bennington, Vt. I knew Ernest there when I was just a slip of a girl and loved him even then. I hadn't seen him for seven years until I met him in New York six weeks ago. We were married in New York city a month ago and were happy until his happened."

Three alleged confederates of Fortier and a jeweler, charged with having acted as a "fence" in the robbery, have been indicted.

DOCTOR DENIES VETS' RIGHT TO USE HIS NAME

Harkins Testifies He Did Not Sign Appeal for Rest Camp Fund

His name was signed to letters without authorization, after he had resigned from the organization, Dr. C. F. Harkins testified today in the federal court trial of officers of the Massachusetts Association for Disabled Veterans of the World War.

Four officers of the organization are charged with fraudulent use of the mails. They are President William H. Burns, Treasurer James Hanafin, State Organizer Leo J. Conway and Albert J. Doucette, a collector.

Dr. Harkins, government witness, testified he was medical director of the association from May 1, 1923, to July 11, 1923 when he resigned.

Acknowledgment of his resignation was received July 16, he said but letters of the organization, dated August 8 and 24, bearing what purported to be his signature, were introduced as exhibits.

He declared signatures on the letters were not made by him and were made without his authorization.

Under direct examination by Asst. U. S. District Attorney Abbott, the doctor testified he met Hannafin while the latter was a patient at Parker Hill Hospital. Dr. Harkins was a doctor at the hospital.

Later Hannafin became connected with the Burns organization and induced the physicians to become med. ical director at $50 a week, but he received a total of only $70 from May 1 to July 11.

During his office, Dr. Harkins said, Doucette wrote a booklet, describing the Shirley rest camp for disabled veterans. The booklet was sent out with letters soliciting subscriptions for support of the camp, according to the witness.

The physician said that the rest camp site was not an "ideal place" for consumptive veterans.

NEW GOLD DISCOUNT BANK FOR GERMANY

Berlin, March 13 (AP).—Before the decree of President Ebert dissolving the Reichstag was read today, the deputies adopted a bill providing for the establishment of a new gold discount bank in Germany.

Plans for this bank have been outlined by Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, before the reparation committee of experts in Paris. The Nationalists and Communists opposed the measure.

WILDWAVES SAID 'FREE SCOTCH!'

And, Oh! What Joy and Sadness There Was Down Nantasket Way

They're all optimists down Hull and Nantasket way.

Also—residents in those parts believe in the old adage that deals with the early bird catching the worm. Only this time it is plain, rum-runner booze that is interesting them.

The well-known dawn was beginning to break. Hullites and Nantasketites began to gather on the wave-swept beach. By 9 o'clock the police estimated the crowd at 300 with more coming every minute—and all searching the beach for booze which rumor had it was being washed ashore from the rum ships that were caught in the storm out in Rum Runners' Row.

There was much disappointment among the early birds, for all that came ashore was a collection of battered and broken wooden cases marked, "White Horse, King's Special and St. Pierre." But where there is smoke there is fire seemed to be the motto, and the gang stayed on watching every wave as it came tearing in.

"Not a chance for us," said a sad policeman.

Stomach Pump Gets Real Evidence in Hooch Cases

Beloit, Wis., March 13.—The old-fashioned stomach pump was responsible for the arraignment in municipal court of ten Beloit men, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor.

The stomach of an operative, working under direction of the police department, was pumped before and after the alleged sale of intoxicating liquor took place.

Evidence has been in process of collection since February 18.

GIRL WHO TOOK POISON REFUSES TO EXPLAIN

Miss Mary Sucles, nineteen, of No. 4 Iroquois street, Arlington, is the girl who had refused to make known her identity after drinking poison from a vial on Boston Common near Boylston and Tremont streets during the blizzard Wednesday.

The girl collapsed in the presence of pedestrians. Police officers summoned an ambulance and she was removed to the Haymarket relief station. Miss Sucles recovered quickly at the hospital. She refused to say why she tried to end her life.

Passersby who ran to the girl's aid at first thought she was another victim of the storm, which has taken a large toll in lives in New England.

But when they observed the vial that had fallen from the girl's hand they saw that it had unmistakably contained iodine.

A traffic officer, on duty nearby, summoned the police ambulance and the girl was taken to the Relief Station.

There, after first aid was applied and the patient's condition warranted it, the long and unsuccessful attempt to learn her identity began.

Police, internes, nurses and reporters in turn questioned the girl in an attempt to learn her name and address, but she merely buried her head in the pillow of her cot and refused to talk.

NEW HAVEN WILL SOON SHOW SURPLUS

New York, March 13.—Edward G. Buckland, vice-president of the New Haven Railroad, said today that the end of the first quarter would find the road in better condition than at any time since the war. He estimated the net deficit would be about $600,000, compared with $4,600,000 a year ago. February's net deficit was $291,000, against the $2,180,159 deficit in February, 1923.

"We expect a surplus this month," he said. "Business is good, gross revenue for the first seven days having been $157,000 over a year ago.

VILLAGERS ON GUARD AGAINST MANIAC SLAYER

Homes Protected With Rifles After Triple Killing by Unknown

Linden, N. Y., March 13.—Linden's mystery murderer was still at large today, 36 hours after Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whalley and Mrs. Mabel Morse, a neighbor, were found shot and beaten to death in the Whalley home.

Sheriff Henry M. Ware has armed himself and his deputies with blank search warrants and announced his intention of conducting a search of every Linden home. In the belief that the maniac who committed the murders, and who also is believed to have beaten to death Miss Frances L. Kimball in 1922, is still in their midst, villagers and farmers have lived in constant fear of a renewed attack.

In the two nights since the discovery in the Whalley home they have banded together and stood guard over their families with shotguns and rifles.

CUSTOMS MEN SEIZE SHAMROCK PLANTS

New York, March 13.—Rev. J. M. Robinson of Wicklow, Ireland, arrived on the Saxonia today carrying six little pots of Irish sod in which grew "the green" he planned to wear March 17.

When he reached the pier the customs men were sympathetic, but the representatives of the Department of Agriculture confiscated the shamrocks, explaining there was a stringent law forbidding importation of vegetation with roots.

"What a world," exclaimed the priest.

Poor Treated Free at $1,500,000 Hospital

Peter Bent Brigham Gives Aid to More Than 50,000 Out-Patients Yearly.

AT PETER BENT BRIGHAM HOSPITAL

Nurse Alice Weston, head of the department of baking and massage, using a baking machine on injured shoulder of a patient at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

If you are not acquainted with reputable physicians and wish to make sure of obtaining expert advice and fair dealing, the series will show you how to avoid quacks by patronizing Boston's health centres, the best in the country.

Residents of Suffolk County, which includes Boston, Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop, need not resort to the services of quack doctors if unable to pay a private physician for extended treatment or surgical operations.

At No. 721 Huntington avenue, in the city of Boston, is a $1,250,000 hospital, made possible for the sick poor of this county, by the bequest of Peter Bent Brigham of Boston restaurant fame.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital has been in existence for about ten years. Its buildings cover ten acres of ground, are fireproof, and the main hospital building has a capacity of 225 beds.

One of the chief aims of the architect of this hospital was to furnish it with the maximum amount of light and sunshine, and to make it possible for every patient to be easily moved out of doors. This was accomplished, and all of the outdoor wards consist of low, stucco buildings with wide verandas leading from the bedside.

The activities of this hospital are not limited to absolutely free and partpay patients, however. Some patients pay large sums for private rooms and the services of extra nurses, which helps to meet the expenses of the institution. The interest on the $5,000,000 fund of the donor pays only about one-third of the upkeep, and the hospital is wholly maintained by the interest, private donations and ward fees of pay patients.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital is for general medical and surgical cases. Except in emergencies, children under twelve are not admitted, as the Children's Hospital in Longwood avenue is just across the street, and the faculty does not wish to duplicate their work.

Neither are there dental or orthopedic clinics connected with this hospital because the Forsyth Dispensary, Harvard and Tufts Dental Schools can amply provide for residents of the Boston district.

The Out-Patient Department is open to the public every day excepting Sundays and holidays from 8:30 a. m. until 6 p. m.

Last year, 57,967 visits were made by patients to this department, and 4,715 were admitted through this department to the wards.

A fee of 50 cents a visit is charged by the Out-Patient Department, but no one is asked to pay a penny if it would work a hardship on him.

Ward fees range from $21 a week down, according to the patient's ability to pay.

If the hospital is not crowded with patients from Suffolk County, sick residents of other districts may come here by paying $25 a week for the same accommodations; but no free patients are ever received outside of Suffolk County.

A large social service department is maintained by this hospital, and all cases are followed up in the homes from one to two years after leaving the hospital. The Community Association works in affiliation with the hospital, as do other medical and welfare associations.

Dr. Joseph B. Howland is superintendent, and the staff includes such well known physicians as Dr. Channing Frothingham, Dr. Harvey Cushing, Dr. Henry Christian and Dr. Reginald Fits.

U. S. Income Tax Must Be Filed by Saturday

The time for filing Federal income tax returns will expire Saturday.

For those who wish instruction or assistance, the Park Square Building headquarters and the division offices in other parts of the State are open evenings and on Saturday until 10 p.m. Early filing is urged by Collector Nichols.

If returns are made by mail it is necessary to send at least one-quarter of the tax at the same time. Check or money order is more practical than cash and also serves as evidence of payment.

NEW LOW PRICED SIX OLDSMOBILE IN FIELD

The new 1924 Oldsmobiles are attracting more than the usual amount of interest always manifest when one of the old and long-established makers brings out an entirely new line of cars. In addition to being the lowest priced six-cylinder car in the world, the new Model 30, as it is called, is the first six-cylinder car ever produced to sell in the low-priced field.

Until the advent of this new car the low-price field was dominated entirely by four-cylinder cars, but this new Oldsmobile at $750 for the five-passenger touring model immediately won a place for itself.

The company says the car was designed to meet the long-felt need of a six-cylinder automobile at a price within the reach of everyone.

OVERLAND MEN ARE GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Banner Year for Trade Is Prophesied by President Willys

At an enthusiastic luncheon meeting at the Hotel Brunswick, attended by more than 200 New England Willys-Overland dealers, John N. Willys, president of the company, prophesied that 1924 will be a "crackerjack" year in the automobile business.

He urged upon the dealers present the necessity for carefully planning ahead so that they may be able to handle the volume of business that is sure to come.

Mr. Willys told of the remarkable progress that has been made in the factory organization which has resulted in speeding up production to a point where more than 30,000 cars will be turned out during the 24 working days of next month.

H. W. Fitch, branch manager, presided, and said, in a short introductory speech, that the business which was 200 per cent. greater in 1923 than in 1922, was already showing a proportionate increase for this year.

L. G. Feed, general sales manager of the company, stressed the fact that the greatest problem of both the manufacturer and the dealer is the problem of retail salesmanship.

He called attention to the process of condensation through which the automobile business is now passing and warned the dealers that only those who start now to apply modern methods to their business will survive the struggle for existence.

W. M. Canaday outlined the program of advertising which the Willys Overland Company will carry on this year.

PRODUCTION FILM AT OAKLAND DINNER

W. B. Sawyer, president of the Boston-Oakland Company, presided and introduced the various speakers. They were: W. R. Tracy, assistant general sales manager of the factory at Pontiac; E. M. Orr, assistant general manager; V. Batchelder, branch manager General Motors Acceptance Corporation, and J. W. Keenan of the Boston Automobile Dealers' Association.

NEW DORT MODEL MAKES A BIG HIT

Visitors at the show who have viewed the Dort exhibit have come away highly impressed with the new Dort three-door coupe. This car coincides exactly with the ideas of a great many people on closed cars, and it is doubtful whether any car now on the market comes as near satisfying so large a majority of people.

The Dort coupe seats five passengers in an easy conversational group. It is compact, yet there is a generous amount of room for everybody, even though passengers be usually large or tall. There is ample leg room in both front and rear.

EIGHT HUPMOBILE MODELS ARE SHOWN

One of the exhibits which is attracting attention at the auto show is that of the Jeffrey-Nichols Company, Hupmobile distributor for New England. The 1924 line consists of eight models, four open and four closed.

The latest arrival in the line was the club sedan. This new model is attracting much attention, combining the compactness of the closed coupled open car with the comfort of the closed models.

Hupp's output in recent months has averaged 50 per cent. of its entire production, which is a considerable increase over 1923, of only about 30 per cent. average.

LIGHT CAR ADDED TO GRAY GROUP

A line of cars unique in the light car field—the Gray Group for 1924—has just been announced.

The bodies are noteworthy for their fine coach work and up-to-date lines, and for their unusually rigid and durable construction. All lower quarters and side panels are made with closely spaced extra strainers, which assures absolute rigidity and do away with rumbling and buckling.

FEDERAL TRUCK CO. DOING EXTRA WELL

William E. Gould, president of the Federal Truck Company of Boston, reports that the sales for January and February have exceeded his expectations. Mr. Gould has become active but recently in the company, other business preventing in 1923, and is delighted with the showing made by his company the past year under the able management of Harry Jones, service manager, who has built up a splendid name for service in the twelve years he has been with the Federal Truck Co. 1924 will be the biggest year yet, says President Gould.

Beats Out 1923

JOHN N. WILLYS,
President of Willys-Overland Company, announces shipments of more than 1,000 cars a day for the twenty-two working days of last month, an increase of 70 per cent. over February of last year.

500 GUESTS AT CHEVROLET BANQUET

Dealers From All Over New England Entertained by President Sills

An enthusiastic Chevrolet "get-together" meeting and luncheon, held at the Hotel Somerset was probably the largest dealer luncheon ever given by any automobile distributor in New England. Over 500 Chevrolet dealers, associate dealers and service station men were the guests of W. C. Sills, president of the Sills-Chevrolet Company, Chevrolet distributor for New England.

The luncheon program was varied and included speeches, reunion of many friends connected with Chevrolet, and the exhibition of the Chevrolet Motor Company's film, "Man's Conquest of Time."

Mr. Sills presided and among the officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company to address the meeting were William S. Knudson, vice president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, Detroit, who gave some interesting information on Chevrolet productions; George Frank Lord, advertising manager, Detroit and D. E. Ralston, regional manager. C. L. Heyniger, sales manager, Tarytown, N. Y., outlined the sales plan for 1924 during which it is proposed to double the number of Chevrolets produced and sold over 1922.

The film, "Man's Conquest of Time" is undoubtedly one of the finest educational films ever made and could not help but impress upon the minds of the dealers the truly remarkable growth of Chevrolet. This film treats with the problem of transportation from the stone age to the present day.

MERITAS MADE BODY ATTRACTS NOTICE

Much interest is centered on the Meritas Made Fabric Body exhibit by Auto Show visitors. The sectionized body, semi-completed is being shown for the first time.

This body gives motorists their first opportunity of seeing the various steps in the manufacture of fabric bodies under the Childs system. It is built on a standard iron-strapped wood frame, and substitutes for wooden or metal panels, a stout wire netting, two layers of wadding, canvas, and an outer covering of Meritas leather cloth, a two-ply material specially made for this purpose. It is said to eliminate all noises due to vibration, is strikingly handsome and distinctive in appearance, and retains its lustre indefinitely, even after usage which quickly dulls a paint job.

FIREMEN NEAR DEATH IN FIRE AT WENHAM

Hurled Into Street by Explosion as the Flames Sweep Through Grange Hall

Hamilton-Wenham, March 13.—Police Chief A. L. Perley and John Cross, a fireman, were blown out of the Hamilton & Wenham Grange Building today during a fire that swept through the structure at South Hamilton.

A loud explosion that shattered windows in the two-story frame building, greeted the police chief and firemen as they entered the structure after being informed by a passerby that a fire was burning.

Both men were hurled back into Railroad avenue, on which the Grange building is located. Neither was hurt, however.

The South Hamilton Public Library, containing 3,000 volumes, and the restaurant of Daniel Kimball, both situated on the street floor, were swept by the flames, while the meeting room of the Grange, on the second floor, was badly damaged.

Because of difficulty encountered by the firemen in getting water and the close proximity of other business buildings in the section, aid was summoned from Beverly and Wenham. Beverly sent two pieces of apparatus.

The fire started, it is believed, from an overheated stove in the Kimball restaurant on the street floor. It had gained considerable headway when Police Chief Perley and Fireman Cross arrived at the scene and forced an entrance.

Cause of the explosion that blew them out of the building into the street, is unknown. A barrel of oil was stored at the rear of the restaurant.

GRAND FALLS PUBLIC OWNERSHIP PLANNED

Fredericton, N. B., March 13.—The New Brunswick government will undertake hydro development of Grand Falls on the St. John River as a public ownership proposition, Provincial Premier Veniot announced today.

The Grand Falls, near the Maine border, was formerly under lease to the International Paper Company, but the lease was cancelled. It is intended to develop from 60,000 to 80,000 horsepower, Premier Veniot said.

Labor's First Defeat

London, March 13.—The Labor government was defeated in the House of Commons this afternoon upon a motion to suspend the rule calling for adjournment at 11 p. m. This was the first defeat the MacDonald government has sustained in Commons.

G. O. P. TRIES TO RUSH INCOME TAX MEASURE

In Final Effort to Comply With Wishes of President Coolidge

Washington, March 13 (I.N.S.)—In final desperate effort was in progress today among regular Republicans in the House to satisfy President Coolidge by passing as a separate measure the 25 per cent. tax reduction on income taxes for 1923.

Although Leader Longworth carried to the President information the legislation could not be put through the House before the first quarterly instalments of tax payments fall due Saturday, others were laying plans to rush the bill through the House after it had been torn from the Ways and Means Committee.

Chindblom, Illinois, and Hawley, Oregon, worked on Republican members of the committee trying to induce them to report out today the Chindblom bill, which is copied from the language providing for the 25 per cent. reduction as incorporated in the general tax bill when it passed the House. Four times previously a similar effort had been made with the Republican committeemen, and each time it failed.

TWO ALARM BLAZE ON SOUTH STREET

Two alarms were sounded for a fire in the six story brick building at No. 107 South street, when Patrolman Walter Schact discovered smoke. The fire was confined to the rear of the first floor and the combined smoke and water damage will total more than $40,000.

Chief John O. Taber made his first appearance in his official capacity since his recent illness when he responded to the second alarm.

The building is occupied by the C. G. Flynn Leather Company and the Crescent Tanning Company. Most of the damage will be suffered by the former concern.

BIG CHANGES IN TURKISH REFORMS

Constantinople, March 13 (A.P.).—Now that the Caliphate has been abolished, the Turkish National Assembly is turning its attention to other reforms, with a view to westernizing Turkey.

The lawmakers have under consideration a plan to abolish the Turkish alphabet for Latin letters, and one Constantinople newspaper has begun to appear in French.

Among suggested measures are suppression of the Greek and Armenian patriarchates and the Jewish rabbinate.

How To Keep A Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly once or three times a day. Mrs. J. Russell of 19,141 Havana Ave., Detroit, Mich., keeps her family of two young children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. M. L. Smith of 519 Maple Ave., East Pittsburg, Pa., says her family of three children have never been sick a day since giving them Syrup Pepsin.

A Substitute for Physics

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or coal-tar drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful

Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, cankers, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop that first sneeze or sniffle and you will have a healthy winter.

You Can Have A Trial Bottle

Why INDICAN Indicates Danger for Most People.

"When Indican Writes, It Uses a Poison Pen"

ASK your doctor about INDICAN. He will tell you it is a substance looked for in examining his patients thoroughly. If he finds it in you—it means that the poisons of constipation are seeping through your blood into every muscle and every joint. This is what does the damage. It robs you of your pep—it poisons your optimism and good spirits—it pales your face and puts blemishes there—it gives you headaches—causes indigestion. No wonder you feel drugged when constipated.

You can get only temporary relief from most laxatives. But Carter's Little Liver Pills, it has been found, not only "physic" the stomach, liver and intestines quickly, but also drive the INDICAN away.

Make This Test: Have an analysis made of your specimen, and if the doctor reports the presence of INDICAN, or if you can "feel" how poisoned you are—immediately start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills as prescribed by him, or according to directions. Now have another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears. See how your complexion brightens and clears, your tongue is sweet and clean, you can eat like a kid again, in most cases.

Important: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 67 years by millions of people all over the world, are a purely vegetable preparation and contain no drugs of any nature. They therefore act in a natural way and are non-habit forming. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR

Cuticura Talcum Is Refreshing For The Skin

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

USE MULSIFIED

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

ROBES FOR NEW CARDINALS ARE GORGEOUS

Capes of Ermine 25 Feet Long; Work Begins on Consistory Stands

Rome, March 13 (By A. P.)—Active preparations for the holding of the public consistory in the Basilica of St. Peter's, at which Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein will receive their red hats, were under way today.

Near the "altar of the martyrs" a large platform is being erected. On this platform Pope Pius will take his place when he descends from the sedia gestatoria, and the two archbishops will ascend it, kneel before the pontiff, kiss his ring and embrace him and have the red hat placed on their heads.

The papal tailor said the silk for the gorgeous red robes of the cardinals is made only in Italy. It was difficult to imitate the exact shade required for the robes of cardinals. The goods for other robes, violet and black, come from Alsace.

There must be ready for the cardinals capes of ermine and red trains, almost twenty-five feet in length, which must be carefully made.

RADIO-PHONOGRAPH CONCERNS JOIN HANDS

New York, March 13.—A formal announcement made by the Radio Corporation of America, translated into English, discloses these facts:

Broadcasting of copyrighted music being forbidden, the corporation and the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company have agreed to push each other's game along. (Labeled "public service," etc.)

The corporation will broadcast operatic stars while they are making records for the phonograph company, and in return will get a million dollars' worth of advertising for their records, and the right to manufacture a combined receiving set and phonograph.

$10,000,000 CUT IN BRITISH NAVY'S COST

London, March 13.—Expenditures for the British Navy during the fiscal year of 1924-5 are estimated at $271,467,000, a reduction of $10,702,000, as compared with the present year, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, revealed today.

The total estimates include 1,860 000 pounds sterling for five new cruisers and two destroyers, which will be built at once in an effort to relieve unemployment.

1,000,000 LAMPS IN N. Y. WHITE WAY

New York, March 13.—The Great White Way and all the little white ways of the city contain more than 1,000,000 incandescent lamps in 10 000 electric signs, according to statistics furnished by the Edison company.

SHAW MIGHT HAVE BEEN CHAMPION

Movie Star in "White Way" Looks Like Professional Boxer

By DAMON RUNYON

Shaw has the role of the fighter here in "The Great White Way," now showing at the Park Theatre.

It is a role in which Shaw displayed. He has always been a great "ring worm" on fistic fun. In his extreme youth he had a strong leaning toward a pugilistic career.

That was before he discovered he had more talent for the stage, a happy discovery for Shaw. As a fighter he might have become a champion. But as an actor he has a more permanent career, will gather more enduring fame, minus the cost of mangled ears or a dislocated nose.

Shaw is a natural athlete, compact, solidly built, with smooth muscles, which carry great strength. He has the appearance of a champion professional boxer, that is in popular imagination—a Dempsey, a Leonard.

Some champions never look the part. But as a rule a champion is a champion in appearance. This is true of men and horses. Nearly every great horse looks great. There's a search on about every great fighter that immediately attracts attention to him, even when his identity is unknown.

Shaw could easily be taken for a champion in his street clothes. When you are told he is an actor you think, "He must be a good actor," which he is.

DANISH ACTOR SEES SOCIETY REHEARSAL

The Danish actor, Emile Moller, who is now in Boston on a short visit, attended the final rehearsal of the "immigrant," at the Peabody Playhouse. Mr. Moller praised the work of the Players highly and especially the acting of Miss Helen F. Sherman, Mr. Pearson and Mr. De Veau.

The Immigrant" was written by M. H. Sullivan of Newton, and was presented at the Peabody Playhouse last evening.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

In the South, March 13.—From pen to pick.

That was the switch made by the youthful A. H. Smith—buried Wednesday with signal honors. And it was that switch which led to his becoming president of the vast New York Central lines.

Have others of our notable leaders owed their success to having turned from collar-and-cuff positions to rough-and-tumble work? The records reply "Yes."

First take A. H. Smith's own case. He was a clerk in a railway office and getting along quite satisfactorily. But one day he said to himself: "If I want to learn railroading, the place to learn it is out on the road, where to real work is done."

He descended from his high stool and joined a gang of common railway laborers. The foreman suspected that the soft-fingered youth had been sent to spy on him and his men. So it was decided to "ride him to death." He was put on one end of a cross-cut saw and the giant on the other end did everything he could to pull young Smith's arm out of the socket.

Mr. Smith once told me that it took all the courage and all the stamina he possessed to wrestle with the hazing he was subjected to, especially as his muscles, after several years of office work, has become flabby. But he stuck. Before long he became, in fact, the foreman's favorite by doing all the clerical work for the foreman after hours.

Mr. Smith's muscles by and by became hard enough. He became, in fact, a powerful boxer, among other things.

Many well-to-do men of affairs now strongly favor a technical engineering courses for their sons. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the Georgia "Tech," and similar institutions that turn out practically educated engineers are overwhelmed with applications for admission.

Gerard Swope, now president of the General Electric, once wore overalls job when he was graduated from Boston "Tech.," and later gave up office work to go back to more practical activities.

Harry B. Thayer, president of the American Telephone Company, was originally paid to do only office work, with Western Electric, at Chicago. But he seized every opportunity—and made many opportunities—to get into the factory and learn how to do things with his hands. Although he owned a college diploma, he wasn't afraid of soiling his fingers. He saw that that way lay the greatest progress.

Thomas E. Wilson, packer, was originally a railroad clerk in Chicago. He moved to the stockyards because chance seemed to be "lots doing there," to quote his words to me. He was supposed to be a clerk but he became owner to be found putting his shoulder to the wheel out in the cattle pens.

The man recently selected as president of the mammoth General Motors Corporation, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., was a B. S. of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. But, although his first position was that of draftsman, he quickly began to nose around the factory, that of the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company, and before long he was made general manager. Mr. Sloan told me the other day that he doubted whether he could swing his present job had he not had technical training.

Eugene G. Grace is another college man who did not disdain to tackle hard manual work in a steel plant. Bethlehem Steel, of which he is now president. There is a growing idea that young men are likely to get farthest if they early jump into the thick of things, into the grime and the dirt, into work that strengthens muscles and draws sweat.

New York Stock Market Is Firm and Steady With Active Leaders Higher

GEN. ELECTRIC SOARS FOUR POINTS

New York stock market, with money renewing at 4 per cent., was firm and steady. Most active leaders were higher. General Electric soared 4 points.

Trading, which had been rather lethargic in character, was later enlivened by the inauguration of dividends on Southern Railway common, that stock immediately jumping 4 points to 55, a record high, on heavy transactions.

New 1924 highs were established by Woolworth at 82¾, up 4½; Fisher Body at 215, up 6½; Magma Copper at 35¾, up ¾, and New York Dock at 25¼, up 1¾.

The money available for stock market purposes, as reflected in the renewal rate of 4 per cent. for call funds, also encouraged operations on the long side.

Buying of du Pont, which advanced 3¾ points, followed the reported acquisition of General Motors by banking interests, du Pont being the largest holder of General Motors stock.

Strength of Southern Railway helped other rails. St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri Pacific preferred and Wabash preferred A each advancing more than a point.

Fresh Buoyancy Appears in French Bond Issues

Strength of French republic and municipal bonds and heavy liquidation of Wilson & Co. issues were outstanding contrasting movements in New York's irregular bond market.

Responding to the establishment of $100,000,000 credit here to aid French finances, French bonds displayed buoyancy, gaining from one to two points. Speculative uneasiness over the action and new financing to be taken by Wilson stockholders was reflected in uncertain price movements of the company's bonds. Issues running up more than 3 points, the first 6s reacted 2 points, while the convertible 6s broke 4¾ points and the 1s lost 2.

Wall St. Gossip

SOUTHERN Railway has ordered five Mallet engines from Baldwin. Value is over $500,000.

AMERICAN SUGAR is accepting 7 per cent. at 8.75 cents, although the list price is 9 cents.

RUMORED in Wall Street Switchland is negotiating with American bankers for a loan, probably $20,000,000.

DIRECTORS of Colorado Fuel & Iron have approved plans for enlarging Pueblo mills, at an estimated cost of $3,000,000.

AT ANNUAL meeting of stockholders of Seneca Copper Corporation directors were re-elected and officers were re-elected subsequently.

The Beautiful, but Bluntly Honest Story of a Boston Girl

Seething Life of a Lovely Boston Girl of This Strange Today

THE STORY OF CHICKIE THUS FAR

Chickie Bryce's first romance ended disastrously. At seventeen she had created the illusion that Arthur Scutt, a school chum, was going to propose to her, but when he announced he was going away she was broken-hearted. Then Chickie's chum, Mary Blake, was married. At eighteen Chickie secured a position in a broker's office and there met Janina, a girl wise in the ways of the world. Jimmie, Mary's brother, declares his love for Chickie, but she puts him off. Chickie meets a number of men and finally goes o na party with Jake Munson and a bunch of his friends, but her father is alarmed over what he terms his girl's waywardness. Barry Dunne calls at the Bryce home, and, contrary to expectations, Chickie's father received him kindly. They go for a ride and Chickie gets her first kiss. Surprised, but happy, she thinks only of Barry, but next day meets Jake on the street and is persuaded to dine with him. He invites her to join a party on his yacht for a trip to Florida. Next day he sends her a pin set with sapphires.

HE went on quietly, swinging her hand. Abruptly, he said: "There's something cruel in the present economic order, isn't there?"

"A great deal, I'd say—for instance, that one so young and beautiful as I should have to work; and one so strong and brave as thou should have to pinch. . . ."

"Yes—well, that's just it. Five or six years at least before I'll even begin to make a go of it. There's my mother, too. No matter what I might wish to do—I have to put it out of my thoughts. That's not right. There ought to be some Law arrangement."

"Then what?"

"This dungeon question should be rearranged."

"Marriage?"

"How bright!"

"How would you have it?" She asked it softly and stole a hasty, flushed look into his eyes.

Can't Afford to Marry

"Well, as it is now—most fellows who make their own way can't afford to marry until they're about thirty. A fellow can't throw up his whole future, even if he might wish to. But because he can't marry is no sign he won't love before that old age descends on him. Why shouldn't there be some scheme so that he'd have a right to the love it's a part of life. Why should this everlasting postponement of living be demanded of us?"

A red stain spread slowly upward over her face. But she said valorously: "You mean there should be some substitute for marriage?"

He shrugged: "Well—they'll have that in fifty years at most. Lots of people you and I know today aren't waiting for the conventions to catch up with the little old nature, are they? But what I meant was more, some adjustment between economics and emotions. For instance, some Edison ought to find a way to put us in a state of suspended animation until our pals is made. Then we would have the capacity and the means to enjoy it at once. As it is now, when we've made enough money to be able to live, we're ready to die."

"Ah—tree-tones—tombstones at our head and feet," she said blithely enough. But she looked out at the immense gray water, feeling suddenly a forlorn, chill desolation. She said sadly: "Don't the emotions ever wait or last until the economics catch up with them?"

"I guess they do—that's the only hope, isn't it?" He laughed merrily and added, "But suppose the economics and the emotions wait, but the girl doesn't?"

Chickie combed her hair a long while—dreaming. Her thoughts went back to the morning as she walked along the beach, sending the sand flying. She put the comb down, looked at her hands. They were trembling.

"Five years at least before I'll even begin to make a go of it.

"There's my mother, too." She wondered why she was dwelling on these words of Barry Dunne's.

And she felt as though a luminous searchlight had suddenly been flung across her path. She saw herself going along now with Jake now with Barry; her days were made bright—full of sparkling interest because of them.

She pulled her hair back tight from her forehead, screwed it into a knot on the top of her head—and laughed. But the weight that was loneliness or fear kept pressing like something bleak and heavy on her heart. Five or six years at least—

"Pooh! What about it?" Just what she wanted. They'd have all these years of freedom—walks on the beach—long rides—dancing—

But all the next day she didn't once look across the alley. She had a forlorn, empty feeling that the window over there was closed, the shade drawn down.

Stopped at Mary's

On her way home she stopped in at Mary's. She said to herself, flippantly, "Take a look at the dungeon." She was suddenly consumed with interest in Mary. Was it so bad? Was Mary glad for all her sacrifices? Or in her secret thoughts was she envious of Chickie and her freedom? Would she be delighted if some one said: "Well, here's five or six years — just do as you merrily please with them. Take a holiday from your life?"

Mary began at once to talk of Jake. "Have you come to tell me, Chickie? Jimmy says the machine is always at the door. You know, I always fancied you sweeping grandly along, a bird of paradise in your hair, an ermine train at your feet. What about it?

"Nothing. Why should you wish these things on me, Mary? You didn't wait for them."

"They'd never have come to me. Besides, if you had them you'd send a limo when I wished to go shopping, and a maid to look after my progeny. And I can do with out things better than you could."

"That sounds regretful, Mary. Remember when you said Lucy would do the very same things over again?"

She's Happy

"I say it still, Chickie. Of course, once in a while I'd like to have a purse full of money—I'd like two or three hats. I'd love to go to all the good shows, but I wouldn't give up what I've got if I could stand on top of all the dollars in the world."

"Is worth as much as that—honestly, is it, Mary?

"It's inevitable—and that's about all there's to it—at least for me. A girl that's cold and calculating can arrange her life to suit her mind, but I had to let mine run along after my heart. It's the richest way, but the hardest, perhaps."

"Well, suppose Edward couldn't have married you for years and years?" She began to talk rapidly, with a little catch in her voice. "What do you think you would have done, then? Put your heart in cold storage, or take some one else?"

Mary put down the vegetable knife and wheeled about, facing Chickie, staring at her for a long moment. "Don't you tell me, Chickie, that after all you've shouted from the housetops, you're going to let yourself fall for the hard things, like poor Lucy did? And that poor dub of a Mary? Do you mean to say you'll turn down Jake Munson?"

"Don't be alarmed, Mary. Jake isn't at my feet. He's not the marrying kind. I was only wondering about it. It seems to me that's about all a girl does, even you, Mary—is wondering about love. Awfully independent, aren't we? I was thinking about that today." Chickie was hurriedly running to conceal fearful ennui. Mary would see her thoughts. "You know that new girl in the office—that Janina Wilson I told you about? She said she wouldn't give up her job for the best man on earth, and you know she just falls on the neck of any little shrimp that stops to talk to her. Thirty and beautiful and sour—poor old Janina! And all because no man got the notion to marry her. We don't amount to much, do we?"

"Alone—humph—I guess not. Women are born for love, Chickie. It's the cord that weaves them into the chain of life." Mary laughed. "Mother used to say we're a handful of beautiful beads thrown on a bare floor. Then a little kid comes along with a darning needle and picks the beads onto a bright red string that brings out all their colors, gives them meaning . . . picks them out any old way, leaving out some of the prettiest. And all the beads want like everything to be a part of that chain. Because otherwise, what are they? Transparent, meaningless."

FISH PRICES SOAR

STORM SENDS THEM UP SKY HIGH

OWING to bad weather on the fishing grounds this week, which has prevented fishing both on the shore grounds and on the distant banks, Boston retail fish prices have mounted from 40 to 80 per cent. over last week's quotations in the retail markets. Lent opened this year with fish prices at their lowest ebb since the war, but the present heavy demand and light receipts have sent them soaring.

Haddock, which sold a week ago in the best markets for ten cents a pound are selling today for 18 cents.

There are many Southern fish in the market at present, including Spanish mackerel, shad, striped bass, fresh shrimps, turbot and others. Spanish mackerel sell for 40 cents a pound. Jack shad 50 cents, roe shad 70 cents a pound, and shad roe for $1.50 per pair.

Bluefish brings 45 cents, cod 15 cents, flounder 15 cents, lemon sole 25 cents, Pacific salmon 40 cents and Eastern halibut 60 cents. Weakfish sell for 40 cents and smelts for 35 to 45 cents.

This is the season for haddock roe, which is selling for 20 cents a pound. Lobsters sell for 75 cents a pound.

WAYS OF A HUSBAND

SEQUEL TO "WHEN A GIRL MARRIES"

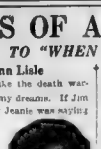
By Ann Lisle

IT sounded like the death warrant of all my dreams. If Jim could give what Jeanie was saying the sanction of listening to it, he wasn't disgusted — he wasn't denying. Jeanie smiled complacently. Her eyes caught mine and held them a moment. I jerked away from the gaze which said as clearly as words that I must see already how right her attitude was.



Ann Lisle

"You and Anne have nothing really in common," she went on implacably. "But I suppose you could go on if it weren't for the other woman."

"We won't mince matters," she said. "I know that Ruth Gregory is a women of whom any man might be proud. She's a national figure. Her world is as big as the civilized globe. One might think that would be enough for her but evidently it isn't. Everyone knows what you mean to her, Jim."

Jim smiled. I thought it was a fatuous smile and hated myself for my judgment. But he preserved his silence. There was something almost intrepid in the way he stood up to the fire of Jeanie's guns. I couldn't take my eyes from his face. But in spite of my intent eagerness on Jim and what he was doing, I realized how Pat was moving about and from the corner of my eye I could see his hand going to smooth back his gray hair in the old nervous gesture.

"Jim, you and Ruth Gregory belong to the same world;" cried Jeanie, her voice ringing out as if she were challenging us to misinterpret a word of what she meant to say. "You ought to have found each other in the beginning before you were bound. But being bound isn't being fettered. Inevitably men nowadays take what's theirs. They can't help it. No one blames them. And a big enough woman can't recognize any obstacle between her and her rightful goal—happiness or ambition. I'm not blaming Ruth Gregory. No one could. I'm sure Anne doesn't."

Jim turned to me. It had the effect of an interruption. His lips didn't move. Then he set his lips coldly and folded his arms. And Jeanie, aflame with her subject, went on:

"Jim, the way to manage a thing like the great feeling there is between you and Ruth Gregory is to manage it sanely—and within the law. The only thing to do is for you and Anne to separate and for you to—"

"Stop!" cried Jim, as if he couldn't listen to another word. He leaped to his feet and cried out in a voice that shook with emotion: "What do you think you're insinuating, Virginia? Ruth Gregory is the most wonderful woman in the world."

Nothing Virginia had said at our family council behind the closed doors of the living room at Dreamwold seemed one-tenth as terrible as Jim's sudden wild declaration that Ruth Gregory is the most wonderful woman in the world. For Jim to think he has to defend Ruth Gregory from Virginia her advocate, means that his chivalry for the woman who has come between us is as complete as his devotion

EX..AUSTED WOMEN WIN NEW STRENGTH AND NERVE POWER

Quickly Renew Body Vitality by the Wincarnis Home Treatment

Rich, red blood is the driving force of life. If the blood is weak, watery, impure we know nothing of the joys of success and accomplishment that come with abundant strength and nerve power. Red blood feeds the body tissues, nourishes the nerves, makes our systems tingle with the pulsing of life.

Those women, and men as well, who are quickly exhausted, nervous, sleep fitfully and awake unrefreshed, who have not the vital nerve force to succeed and who must have new energy, should think first of their blood.

Nourish the blood. Enrich it. Get from your druggist today a generous size bottle of Wincarnis, the blood builder. Start the Wincarnis home treatment at once. It costs less than ten cents a day. No need to be pale, weak, haggard. Wincarnis will quickly give you new strength, vitality, nerve force.

WINCARNIS

For That Tired Feeling—

There is nothing so comforting, so soothing, so renewing for a tired mind and body, as a cup of White House Coffee.

Some coffee must be, and is, better coffee than other coffee. That's the whole secret of White House Coffee. It is simply coffee at its very best.

A cup of White House Coffee is comforting, refreshing, fragrant and satisfying. It is not a question of price. You can't buy any better coffee—so why pay any more? Try White House Coffee for the first time and make a Coffee discovery. "My! How good it is!"

White House Coffee is double-sealed and double-packed, not in a fancy priced container, but in that big, square, scientifically designed package that has put the name "White House" upon the lips of good coffee lovers everywhere.

Try a pound of "White House" Coffee today. Be sure the "White House" is on every label. 1, 3 and 5 lb. packages only.

The Quaint Town Where Mozart Was Born.

SALSBURG is one of the most perfectly preserved examples of a mediaeval city existing today. European citadels, fortresses and castles are often disappointing because they have been modified by the shifting centuries. Salsburg stands out as a relic of the days of chivalry, little changed, though a funny-looking Austrian tramway traverses its main street, and the same street is fronted with some fairly modern shops.

The castle of Salsburg frowns down upon the city from a very steep hill whose sides are so precipitous that an elevator is needed to ascend the two or three hundred feet to its summit. The elevator is the one touch of modernism. The stone stairway by which the Bishops of Salsburg climbed to their strongholds has defied time and can be used in the descent.

The city, bisected by a swiftly running river of icy Tyrolean water, huddles at the base of the mountain. How easy it was for the archbishops of Salsburg to maintain obedience, when all they had to do was to drop boulders down upon their subjects! For Salsburg in the middle ages was ruled by an archbishop, one of the electors of Germany, and an ecclesiastic who led his troops to war and wore chain armor as often as his purple robes.

Salsburg is famed today chiefly for the fact that Mozart was born there, a miserably poor musician who had to go elsewhere to make a living. At frequent intervals a Mozart festival is given in the old town, to which composers and musicians from all over Europe journey to hear his works performed by symphony orchestras and opera companies in rapid succession.

The home of Mozart is carefully preserved for tourists. It is probable that the guide receives in tips every day as much as Mozart got for one of his string quartets, sonatas or concertos. Mozart died as poor as he was born, passing away in Vienna in dire poverty at the age of thirty-five. Genius was even less appreciated then than now.

The castle of the archbishops combines the grimness of the robber baron with the austereness of the churchman. Its rooms of state are almost as unpleasant as its dungeons. It is dark and dank and dismal, but a fortress of great strength. Modern artillery could reduce it and aeroplanes drop bombs upon it, but it is doubtful if it could have been captured with any weapons known before the American Civil War. The manner of reducing such fortresses during the Middle Ages was for an enemy to sit down in front of it for three or four years until starvation caused capitulation.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

A WELL known humanitarian has suggested that every dairy should hire a traveling companion for each of their milkmen.

A MAN who has to be out at three or four o'clock in the morning is bound to get lonesome and should have somebody along to amuse him.

IT wouldn't be a bad idea to detail a monologist to every milk wagon so that he could keep telling jokes to the driver.

THEN when the driver got tired of listening to this fellow's jokes he could go to the milkmen's entertainment booking office and trade him in for a dancing act.

OF course it would be up to the chauffeur of the truck to pick his own talent. While one milkman might like a trained seal, another one might prefer a couple of acrobats.

IT would be wonderful to get a pint of cream which was full of laughs,

EVEN the buttermilk would taste better if it had a few snickers in it.

NOT only should the driver be entertained, but a lot of booking offices could send out some acts that would even amuse the horses.

A MILK wagon team could cover the city faster if they had something to tickle them en route.

OF course they'd lose ten or fifteen minutes every time they sat down to applaud.

THE dairies are doing all they can to raise contented cows and now it's up to them to do something to make satisfied milkmen.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

By Mark Sullivan

A Daughter of Corsica Who Was Empress of an Empire.

TWO centuries ago the women of the people were ambitious as they are today. Frayed ends of events long past tell of the longing for achievement that burned in the hearts of those women whose names never survived the years.

Yet their sphere of activity was so circumscribed that almost never was one of their number able to rise above the other excepting through pure accident of fate—that of becoming the mother of a spectacular son.

Thus it is only because of her motherhood that the name of Letitia Ramolino, the marvelously beautiful daughter of a neither wealthy nor noble family of Ajaccio, Corsica, is known and held in the light of romance today.

Letitia Ramolino became the mother of the great Napoleon Bonaparte, and through his achievements she later became the famous Madame Mere of Paris after the French Empire was established.

It was in the tiny town of her birth, when she was a girl of fifteen, that Letitia met the son of an influential family, Charles Marie de Bonaparte. He was eighteen and descendant of a family that had every right to place the "de" before its name, since an ancient title of nobility from the Genoese Republic had been granted the father of Charles.

The young man was a student of law at the University of Pisa. But it was not until some years after his marriage to the lovely Letitia that he was graduated with a doctor's degree—in 1769 to be exact.

As the years wore along, he turned out to be a somewhat indolent Italian gentleman who preferred to sit with his favorite books day after day, rather than to make any sort of attempt at bettering the family fortunes.

But what he lacked in ambition was more than made up in the person of his wife. Thirteen children came to her, eight of whom grew to maturity.

Joseph, who was made King of Naples by his illustrious brother, and then of Spain, was her eldest; then after the great Napoleon came Lucien; Elizabeth, the Princess Baciocchi; Pauline, married first to General Leclerc and afterwards to Prince Borghese; Caroline, queen of Naples, married to Murat; Louis, King of Holland; Jerome, King of Westphalia.

Napoleon at the age of ten years entered a military school at Brienne. From that time on the boy's education was entirely military. He could scarcely remember a time when he was not a soldier living among soldiers. In 1785 Madame rejoiced over the commission of lieutenant bestowed upon her son. Four years later his active life with the Revolution which was to change the course of history began.

INTERESTING STORIES

The fact that the first English silver fork which the South Kensington Museum hopes to acquire is dated 1631 shows how backward the English were in the adoption of such aids to polite eating, observes a recent writer.

Italy knew the fork at least six centuries earlier, for there is record of the use of a silver fork and gold spoon by Princess Argila at her marriage with the son of the Doge of Venice in 998. The fork was then regarded as a novelty, but it was speedily adopted by the Venetian nobility, despite the strong disapproval of the church, some priests denouncing the new instrument as an insult to Providence, which had provided man with fingers.

France seems to have adopted the fork in the late fourteenth century, but England first heard of it through Tom Coryate, who brought one home from Venice in

CRYSTAL WORKS WELL IN SUPER

Permits the Use of UV201A Tubes and Dry Cell A-Battery

The demand for 22 American Super that can be used with dry cells instead of a storage battery has been so great that the circuit shown today has been devised.

It is quite possible to build a Super using UV199 or WD11 tubes throughout, but unless a third stage of push-pull amplification is added, the volume was not as satisfactory as in the Super using UV201A's and a UV200 for the detector.

The solution is in the use of UV 201's for the amplifier tubes, and a crystal for detection.

This combination draws three-quarters of an ampere from the A battery, which is not too much for dry cells. The volume is greater than when UV199's or WD11's are used, and the quality is very much improved.

FOUR DRY CELLS NEEDED.

Four dry cells are necessary to give the six volts required by these tubes. Eight dry cells will last more than twice as long as four. If eight are used, connect two sets of four separately in series, and then connect each of these sets of four in parallel.

If desired also, one of the special transformers which are designed to convert 110-volt A.C. house current into current suitable for lighting the filaments of amplifier tubes may be used. This will do away with A battery altogether, and the slight hum will not be noticeable during the reception of music.

Your present Super, built in accordance with the plans in the booklet, or as previously published, may be readily converted into a set using a crystal detector by shortening the grid condenser and leak with bus bar and connecting the crystal between the grid and secondary, as shown in the accompanying diagram.

It is also necessary to disconnect the low voltage B battery lead altogether. This is the lead that tags the 22½ or 18 volt tap on the battery.

Then from the low voltage or detector B battery binding post on the set, run a short piece of wire to the positive A binding post. This completes the change to a crystal detector.

PREVENTS OSCILLATION.

This will make an excellent scheme to try if you are troubled at all with oscillation. A Super set, properly built, will not oscillate, but occasionally, when a poor ground connection is used, or when the coils are incorrectly tipped or are too close together, there will be some oscillation. A loose connection that results in some resistance will also cause howling.

A crystal in the detector circuit will stop this if the oscillation is caused by anything but a loose connection. If a loose connection is the cause of the oscillation, the set will not function at all with a crystal detector.

DRY CELLS FOR AMERICAN SUPER

HOOKUP FOR SUPER WITH CRYSTAL DETECTOR

A crystal detector in your Super will permit you to eliminate the UV200 detector tube, which uses a full ampere from the A battery, and use UV201A's exclusively. This makes it possible to use dry cells for A battery or one of the spoil transformers used to convert house lighting circuit into current for lighting radio vacuum tubes.

AMERICAN JAZZ FROM ENGLAND TONIGHT

Nine British Broadcasting Stations to Attempt to Span the Atlantic

The nine broadcasting stations in England will attempt tonight to skim the Atlantic, and incidentally to hand back to America a little American music.

WGI, the Amrad broadcasting station at Medford Hillside, and other stations which might interfere with reception of the British broadcasts, will stand by during the tests.

WNAC, the Shepard Stores, will not stand by, as it is felt that their wave-length will not interfere.

All of the nine British stations will be linked together, as in the previous test several months ago, so that the same program will be broadcast by all of them, but on different wave-lengths.

The program will be chiefly by one of England's famous dance bands, the Savoy Orpheans. The complete program is printed elsewhere.

Complete Program of Transatlantic Test Tonight

Here is what to listen for tonight in the transatlantic test by the British Broadcasting stations. Program is from 6 to 7 and from 8 to 9:30. The Savoy Orpheans Band will furnish most of the selections:

1. Irish Medley. 2. Non-stop dancing. 3. "I Love You." 4. "Riviera Rose." 5. "Farewell Blues." 6. "Night Time in Italy." 7. "That Everything." 8. "Arcady." 9. Piano solo.

10. "If I Can't Get the Sweetie I Want." 11. "In Love With Love." 12. "Just Keep on Dancing." 13. Scotch medley. 14. Song of India. 16. "Garden in Brittany." 17. Violin solo. 18. "Molly Maloney." 19. "Nights in the Woods."

20. "Honolulu Blues." 21. "Twelve o'Clock at Night." 22. Medley. 23. Piano solo. 24. "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers." 25. "Brown Skin." 26. "Honey, Keep Your Tail Up." 27. Fox-Trot medley. 28. "Star-Spangled Banner." 29. "God Save the King."

SPECIAL FOLLIES PROGRAM TONIGHT

Principals from the Greenwich Village Follies will broadcast a special program from WNAC, the Shepard Stores station, tonight at 11:45. Program will include a piano solo by Alfred Newman, conductor of the Follies orchestra; violin solos by Oscar Wasserberger, concert master; baritone solos by Gregory Safranic; soprano solos by Astrid Ohlson; contralto solos by Jean La Marr, duet by Astrid Ohlson and Jean La Marr, talk by Johannes Josefsen, baritone by orchestra.

Frisco Schools Have Sets

San Francisco schools to be equipped with radio receiving sets. It has been announced by the Board of Education. One has already been set up in the new Galileo High School.

Radio Queries

My set, diagram of which is enclosed, worked all right last year, but when I tried it a few weeks ago it would not work. The set oscillates, but gives no signal.

MALDEN.

The diagram is for a tuned impedence coupled radio-frequency amplifier. A broken connection somewhere might cause it to oscillate. Also examine tube contacts. Hookup is correct.

Why cannot a 201A tube be used in the R. F. socket of my four-tube Super? AC201A works all right, but there is a bad whistle with the UV201A. Are the holes that are spotted for Waltham condensers at the right angle for a 55-degree tip of the coils?

J. R. M.

The 201 A is probably defective in such a way that its inferred capacity is greatly increased. You will get a fifty-five-degree tip on the coils with the holes as spotted if the couplers are mounted as described. It is always well to experiment with the tip of one of the coils, as a difference in the orientation of the coils makes necessary a different tip.

I like the Super very much, but find it will not pick up stations over 500 meters. WSAI at Providence is on 261 meters, and I know of no station on a lower wave length, and this is tuned in at 20 on the dial. My set is working so nicely I don't want to tear it down until I am sure the 600 meters can be obtained.

H. C. A.

Larger variable condensers or about ten more turns on the secondary of each coupler is necessary. Perhaps the easiest would be to wind the additional turns on each coil.

The Listener

I wonder what has happened to the radio play-writing contest that was announced some months ago by WGY? I have been waiting with much curiosity to hear the result, and, incidentally, to listen in on the prize play.

Wonder if the radio authorities purposely gave the Detroit police broadcasting station the call letters, KOP, or if it was just an unusual coincidence? My small son never fails to call it "Kop station" at the announcement from that station which he calls the "Kop station."

Not only is the copper business benefiting by radio demand, as I have previously noted, but also the chemical trade. Not a week passes by, I am told, but what certain chemicals are being marked up, as a result of the increased call for them in connection with radio work.

They'll soon be selling radio sets made of chocolate. At least, I judge from it recently that is fitting to see a radio set that's "the candy" as to see a Mah Jong game in chocolates which is exactly what is being displayed in a number of Boston confectionery stores as "the latest."

A Western traveling man tells this one. A couple of the boys were celebrating at a party where the ambrosian nectar flowed freely. There chanced to be a radio in the house which was eventually called upon to do its stuff. One of the numbers was a selection of Hawaiian music, and the happy golden notes so affected the joymakers they wired the broadcasting station for a repetition of the number. It was promptly given.

Radio Receiving Conditions Tonight

Radio receiving conditions from stations broadcasting over the entire country should be good tonight, with one exception. Stations in the lower Mississippi Valley are not expected to tune in so well.

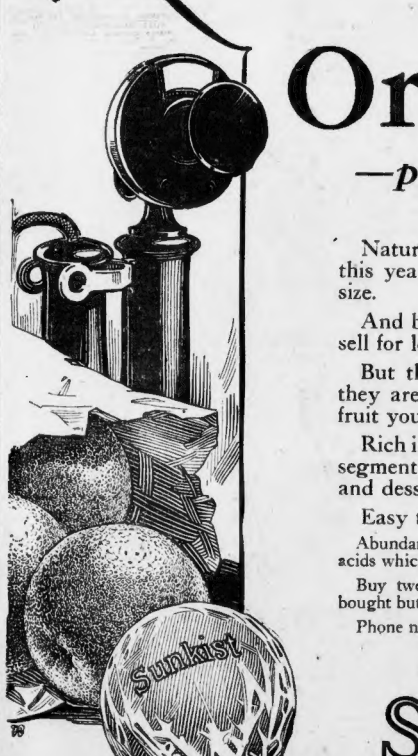
Special Oranges —phone for them



Nature has made splendid oranges this year, but smaller than usual in size.

And being smaller, of course they sell for less.

But they are twice a bargain for they are just as good as any larger fruit you ever ate.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY
Boston Health Commissioner.

CHICKEN pox is a very contagious disease. Last year in Boston there were more than 2,000 cases reported to the Health Department.

It is contagious at the beginning of sickness and continues to be so as long as any sores or scabs are to be seen. The disease is spread by coming into close contact with the patient and by articles which have been in contact with the patient.

Dr. Mahoney.

It is from about sixteen to twenty-one days after a person has contracted chicken pox before he becomes to show symptoms of sickness. A person who has had sickness once usually never gets the disease again.

The patient should be in a room by himself from the first sign of sickness. Have the patient attended by a person who has had chicken pox. Keep kittens or dogs or cats out of the sick room.

Boil all eating and drinking utensils, cups, handkerchiefs, bed linen, blankets and such other articles used by or coming into contact with the patient as may be eminently disinfected by boiling. All other articles should either be destroyed or exposed to the air and sunlight for at least twenty-four hours. So far as possible receive discharges from the nose and throat on cloths or paper which can be burned. Just before leaving the patient's room the attendant should always wash his hands thoroughly with warm water and soap and then rinse the hands with clean water.

The symptoms generally appearing are chilliness, general aching of the body, anorexia and malaise, but usually the eruption is the first indication. Rose-red papules appear on back and face and then spread to chest, abdomen and limbs. Often there is considerable itching.

To answer to J. B., M.—I would strongly advise that she consult an eye specialist, as I believe that this condition may be soon remedied if corrected at once.

May a person contract measles more than once?—L. L. D.

A person who has had the measles once is not so likely to get it again, but second and even third attacks do occur.

Will you tell me something about compound cresol solution and how it is used for disinfecting purposes?—S. A. C.

In a big article February 3, I mentioned cresol solution, but for the benefit of those who have only a slight acquaintance with chemistry, I will state as follows:

Compound cresol solution is a preparation introduced into the pharmacopoeia some years ago solely for use as a disinfectant, having some of the qualities of carbolic acid or phenol but being somewhat more powerful as a disinfectant and less poisonous. Its unpleasant odor is a drawback to its popularity, but the fact that it does not tarnish or corrode metals and tends to remove stains, constitutes certain advantages. It is commonly used in a strength of 2 per cent, equivalent to one teaspoonful to a pint of water or eight teaspoonfuls to a gallon of water. Articles to be disinfected should be thoroughly covered with the solution and allowed to remain in soak thirty minutes. Compound cresol solution must be used in cool or cold water, otherwise it produces an extremely disagreeable burning sensation if the hands should be accidently scalded, it should be diluted in the sickroom by adding possible by drinking large quantities of well flavored tea, coffee, plain water, and then emptying the stomach by means of an emetic.

GERMAN REICHSTAG DISSOLVED BY EBERT

President Ebert.

Rumors that the Reichstag would be dissolved caused consternation among the Communist Deputies, several of whom, accused of political offenses, are imprisoned awaiting trial, so long as the Reichstag is in session. For this reason Communists made strenuous efforts to prevent dissolution until the immunity of the accused is safeguarded.

SOFIA DISTURBED AS SERB TROOPS GATHER

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 13 (AP)—The Bulgarian foreign office declares the government is moving troops to the Bulgarian frontier. The circumstances are declared similar to those of last September, when Serbia prepared to intervene in Bulgaria at the time of the Communist troubles here.

The foreign office regards as a disquieting feature the lack of any acknowledgement from Serbia of Bulgaria's offer to suppress the Macedonian movement by arresting hundreds of Macedonians and interning them in the interior of Serbia.

The foreign minister declares that while the situation on the whole is better, yet to say that the danger of trade complications had passed would be to ignore the patent facts.

CAN RAISE RUBBER IN FLORIDA, SAYS EDISON

Tampa, Fla., March 13.—Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Rubber Company, and several employes have arrived at Tampa on their way to visit Thomas A. Edison. The trip is planned to determine the possibilities of growing rubber on a commercial scale.

"Mr. Edison feels confident that rubber trees can be grown in certain sections of Florida very successfully." Mr. Firestone stated. "He has conducted a number of experiments and thinks rubber can be produced in large quantities, and in quality equal to that shipped from the Far East, here in Florida."

$1,440,000 PRODUCTS CO. SUIT TRIAL IS ON

New York, March 13.—Suit for $1,440,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by members of the investment firm of Richardson, Hill & Co., through alleged misrepresentation which induced them to invest in securities of the International Products Company, a Maryland corporation, came to trial today before supreme court Justice Mahoney, sitting with a jury.

IRRITATED SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Says Mentho-Sulphur Overcomes Trouble Almost Overnight

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, tear-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gentleness to the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without nausea, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Thoughts and Science Last

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

The real wonder of wonders is the brain's power, working through science, producing miracles that live forever.

And in the thought there is more power than in all the world's armies, hatreds and ambitions.

About two hundred years before the birth of Christ, Antipater of Sidon first made a list of the world's seven wonders.

They were—as he enumerated them, the walls of Babylon—now gone. The statue of Zeus, chief god, by Phydias of Olympia. The hanging gardens of Babylon. The great bronze statue called the Colossus of Rhodes, one foot on either side of the waterway, ships passing between its outstretched legs. The pyramids of Egypt, built by Egyptian kings for their tombs. The mausoleum built by King Mausoleus to hold his corpse, and the wonderful Temple of Artemis in Ephesus.

The Temple of Diana was burned by a slave determined that his name should live in history. A law was passed forbidding the use of his name, which was Herostratus. It has lived in spite of the law. All the wonders that kings created of stone and metal fade away, but scientific wonders once revealed never die.

Archimedes, in his bathtub, observing that his body entering the full tub caused a certain amount of water to flow out, devised a method of establishing the specific gravity of solids. King Hiero had ordered a golden crown and suspected that base alloy had been mixed with the gold. He wanted to find out, but didn't want to melt the crown.

Lying in his bathtub, Archimedes got the idea—jumped out of the bathtub, ran through the streets naked, crying: "Eureka—I have found it."

His body has gone back to worms and dust. King Hiero, who learned how his crown was made, has gone, and the bathtub and the water. But the truth remains.

In the days of Antipater the works of man's mind being small, the works of his hands seemed big. Painfully, hundreds of thousands of men raised the pyramids.

Slowly ancient workers carved the face of the huge sphinx with the Ethiopian features, teaching us that the black race was a great race long ages ago.

Now, the big thing isn't size or brute force, but THOUGHT, which is created inside of a human skull, in the thin layer of gray matter outside of the white brain substance.

The greatest idea of scientific truth is created in a part of the human mind so small that you could put it on the head of a pin.

THAT IS ONE OF THE WORLD'S PERMANENT SEVEN WONDERS.

What would you tell the children, the members of your family interested in naming the seven modern wonders of the world about two thousand years after Antipater made out his list?

There are six. What would you choose for the seventh?

Is it the spinning jenny that freed women from the loom, or the sewing machine that freed her from the needle?

Is it the Bessemer process that makes steel so cheap?

Is it the gas engine that created the automobile?

Is it photography that carries the human eye to every corner of the globe and tells the truth?

Is it the marvelous moving picture, a simple device that takes advantage of the fact that light moves seven times around the world in one second, so fast that it can print on the screen not only the motion of an actor's body, but the flight of a bullet at the cannon's mouth?

Nothing could be more useful to an intelligent American family, and especially to children in their teens, than the discussion of man's accomplishments. Point out to the boys and girls that what seemed great two thousand years ago and supplied Antipater with his famous epigram about the seven wonders seems only childish to us now.

While we speak of "the ancients" we should remember that, as Bacon says, "we are the ancients." Those that come now when the world is more ancient look at Antipater's seven wonders as we look at the mud pies made by children at play.

The ages of glorious science and of perfect justice that are to follow on this earth will look upon us and our "wonders"—flying machine, wireless telegraph, submarine, etc.—as the works of children just learning to think.

Men that are to come will consider this planet merely a resting point for their feet, an apartment in which to live, of no more importance to them than your front yard is to you.

As your real interests are all outside of your own front gate, so the interests of the men to come will be outside this little earth.

Their brain and thought will deal with the universe in which the earth is a grain of sand.

What "seven wonders" will they enumerate when they shall have learned why and how the comets are sent on their journeys, whence the sun derives its lasting power, what laws regulate the birth of solar systems within the great nebulae? What are life, thought, evolution? What was the need of creating a universe with all its struggling and suffering? And what is to be THE great wonder that will explain all, to intellects fully developed?

Edison's Chance Was Zero

That's the Best Chance

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

Thomas A. Edison's grandson has just celebrated his eighth birthday. A fine-looking boy, well-shaped head—everything about him is satisfactory. The only drawback is his start in life, TOO GOOD a start. He has EVERYTHING; his grandfather had NOTHING.

The original Thomas A. Edison, plus nothing in the way of nurses, governesses, parties, etc., amounts to a great deal. The modern small boy with everything to start with often finds it hard to amount to anything.

When you're poor, you MUST.

When you're rich, you NEEDN'T.

And, as a rule, when you needn't, you don't.

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

GETTING around to Spring housecleaning time, isn't it, Pal? Where in the world does all the dirt come from? You've swept and dusted and scrubbed every single day of the year, and yet every inch of the house seems dingy. You'd like to turn the whole place inside-out and let the wind blow through it. And John's feeling the same way about his office. Long 'bout Spring everything seems run down and stale. No kick. The whole business needs to be overhauled.

Yes, human houses and human affairs need an upheaval every now and then. But how about the human beings themselves? Did you ever stop to think, Mary or John, that YOU'RE AS MUCH IN NEED OF HOUSE-CLEANING AS YOUR HOUSE OR OFFICE? Stop and give that mental equipment of yours the once over. There's the engine room that keeps the whole works going. What's its condition?

You're shining windows and polishing the floors of your house, Mary, but how about those cobwebs of prejudice that hang thick in the house of your mind? How about that rubbish of hate which you've carted along, year after year? Scraps and ravellings of petty spite—trash of old quarrels—mean splinters of malicious gossip. What's all that poisonous garbage doing in your mental house? How can you perform clean, sympathetic service with that stuff clogging the crannies and drains of your soul? How can you be happy?

And how about that film of ignorance that spreads like a gray slime over all your thought? You were a bright girl at school and as clever a young bride as a man could pick. Then why have you let yourself grow tarnished like that? Yes, I know you're tired, Mary, but half of your weariness comes from that deadly dulling of your mind. Give your head something to think about instead of hills, babies and boiled beef and you'll forget that cramp in your back.

Start reading the main news in the papers again. Then you won't feel so left out of it when John talks politics or shop. Take that daily half-hour which you waste gossiping with the woman in the next apartment and read some of those books you used to love—start a correspondence course—take up some interesting craft work. Clear out the junk, sister, and let in a flood of clean, new interests. Spring is here. LET'S AIR OUR MINDS.

And the same goes for you, John. You're the world's record fusser when it comes to the files in your office, BUT HOW LONG IS IT SINCE YOU SORTED OUT YOUR SKULL? Migosh, brother, look around! You've just spent $5,000 on new equipment in your business, yet you're carrying a mental equipment which wouldn't bring seventy-five cents at a forced sale. You're always preaching efficiency and elimination, and yet you yourself are all cluttered up with the same clumsy old set of convictions with which you started 'way back in the twenties. You haven't invested in a brand new thought for the last dozen years.

And look at the rust of intolerance and conceit and old-fogyism you've let accumulate! Take it from me, John, if an inspector found your factory in the condition in which you keep your mind, he'd have you up before the commission before you were a day older. Get a move on, Pal, and clean it up. Spring is here. TAKE AN INVENTORY OF YOUR MIND, AND CLEAN OUT THE DEAD STOCK!

Books for Juliette

Editor Helping Hand:

Including two dollars for Anna P. Will you kindly send me the addresses of Juliette as I will gladly send her some books to read. F. J. S.

Thank you. The money is being forwarded to Anna and we are sending you both her address and that of poor little sick Juliette.

Needs Violin Book

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a boy of 14 and am very anxious to learn to play a violin. I have an old violin but I have no books. I would be very thankful for a few beginners books as it is not possible for my mother to buy them for me. Thank you, kind readers. J. B.

Thanks for Unknown

Editor Helping Hand:

I want to thank the kind lady who sent my auntie some clothes. She did not give her address but gave only V. K. I hope you will print this so she can see it and know I thank her.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON MORE PAY FOR TEACHERS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

TEACHERS do not get proper pay for two reasons.

First, they are, as a class, high-minded, with a strong sense of civic duty. Hence they are unwilling to follow the example of longshoremen, take the country by the throat and secure what they want by violence.

Second, public opinion, glibly as it talks about the need of education, and proud as it is of its public schoolhouses, does not yet thoroughly realize that teaching is, to the State, a life and death matter.

We have got some day to come wholeheartedly to the belief that there are enough husky male and female adults to do the work of the world, and that to make children earn wages is to "eat the seed corn."

Every child of the nation in school all the time is the only intelligent program for a democracy. And to carry out that program we need more and better teachers. And we are getting fewer and poorer.

Teachers are deserting their profession by droves. And who will blame them? They are only human. And to expect a man to devote all his life and energies to a noble calling, when the public stints his pay so that he cannot decently support his family, to expect a woman to go on teaching, when as a manicurist or typist or saleswoman she could earn twice as much, is putting too much of a strain on human nature.

The Bolshevists have more sense than that. Whatever you may say of these Russian revolutionists, they are doing one thing which demonstrates they are not quite mad. For they are undertaking a policy of education that is reaching the millions. Their army of soldiers may not be formidable, but their army of teachers will bear watching.

It is the teacher among us who is the last redoubt of Civilization. What will become of our patriotism, unless he instill it? Whence shall come that intelligent citizenry, capable of self-government, except he train it?

The time has come for every citizen who has any vision at all, any understanding of civic duty, to urge better pay for teachers, so that the brightest, most capable and most skilful men and women shall be attracted to the lists of the teaching profession.

If we have any appreciation of noble work we should reward them who hold in their keep our dearest interests at least as well as we reward the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, and others who minister only to our backs and bellies.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON HEAT AND GRAVITY

By Garrett P. Serviss,

"HAVE we any proof that the sun's rays are hot before they strike our atmosphere?" asks a polite gentleman in Drakesville, Ia. To which I can only reply that to one, to my knowledge, and certainly no scientist, has ever affirmed that the sun's rays are hot either before or after they strike our atmosphere.

As I have again and again pointed out in these articles, heat is an effect produced by the sun's rays, and not a quality belonging to the rays as such. For convenience in describing a popular impression only are they ever spoken of as being themselves hot. They are not hot, but makers of heat.

The gentleman insists that it is "proof and not guesses" that he wants. Well, if he will simply go outside the atmosphere he may be able to obtain the kind of proof that he is in search of. He will then have a great advantage over the scientists who, not having as yet been able to get out of the earth's atmosphere, cannot testify, from actual experience, about the heating effect of the sun's rays in the space beyond the limits of the atmosphere.

But a scientific "guess" is usually very different from what is ordinarily called guesswork. It is a legitimate logical inference drawn from experimentally established and related facts. So, finding by experience that the sun's rays passing into an artificial vacuum, there cause any substance on which they impinge to become heated, the very reasonable conclusion is drawn that if we could get outside the atmosphere we should find that the same rays there, too, produce a like heating effect.

Moreover, as we rise in the atmosphere to such heights as we are able to attain, it is found that the air around becomes cooler as, with increasing height, it becomes rarer, but that the sun's rays falling on a protected thermometer bulb manifest the same heating power at an elevation as nearer the ground. The surrounding coolness, then, must be due to the fact that the thinner air develops and holds less heat in proportion to its slighter density.

The same person asks if the weight of a body increases as it nears the centre of gravity; would a body at the centre of the earth possess any "earth weight"; and would a body below sea level be heavier or lighter than at sea level?

The weight increases with nearness to the centre of gravity until after the body has passed a certain distance below the surface of the attracting sphere. This distance in the case of the earth has been calculated to be about 610 miles below sea level. At greater depths than that the body would become lighter and lighter, until at the centre of a homogeneous sphere it would have no weight at all.

The reason why it would have no weight at the centre is because there the attraction would be balanced in all directions.

The reason why the weight gets less as the depth below the surface becomes greater is because only so much of the earth's mass as lies below the level of the body attracts it downward; the shell of matter above that level having no-attractive effect in one direction more than in any other. This is demonstrated mathematically.

The reason why, notwithstanding what has just been said, the body's weight would increase to a depth of about 610 miles below the surface is because the inner core of the earth is much denser than the outer portion, so that its increased attraction as the body approaches its centre for a certain time more than counterbalances the loss of weight due to the non-attraction of the shell above the body.

Once-Overs

Stop hating your job and learn to like it.

When you become interested in a thing you find pleasure in it and you never have tried to be interested in the work by which you earn your bread.

You do not give sufficient thought to the work you do every day is one of the reasons you do not care for it—it seems too much like routine.

Can you not create something more than you do out of your daily service?

If your production was better, something to be proud of, you would like to think of that.

If you could introduce some radical change into the method of your doing you might get more satisfaction out of it.

Interest enough to effect changes for the better might result in promotion for you, and incidentally more money for your family.

Men who are making a success out of their work seem to be absorbed in it, as you have frequently noted.

Even as much interest as if the business belonged to them, as you have often said, as you wondered why.

Isn't this the reason they are getting on and on, up higher?
